

DALY CITY police officer Leslie Keate

A Boyish Smile That's Disarming

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Daley City police officer Leslie Keate is a likeable young chap.

He has a boyish grin that disarms people — even crooks!

But the events of June 22, 1974 did more than just disarm a couple of alleged con artists. It landed them in jail.

Keate was sipping coffee at a local restaurant when two men engaged him in a discussion about a variety of subjects, including how would he like to buy a couple of television sets at a fantastic discount?

The young officer decided to listen to the full commercial concerning the color TV sets. He then told the duo he had decided to buy the sets.

As Keate suspected, the sets were what is known as "junkies" in police circles.

That is, they are beat up old sets packaged in new cartons.

Often as not they have been stolen in a burglary.

Once Keate determined he was the intended victim of a swindle, he arrested the pair.

It was later learned both men had rather complete felony records and were on parole at the time they were disarmed by that smile.

The next day — June 23 — Keate was on patrol along Geneva Avenue near the Cow Palace and assisted a couple of San Francisco police in a traffic stop.

He noticed the car had an unusual amount of household items in the back seat and figured the stuff might have been stolen nearby.

Keate began circulating around the area looking for a possible victim of a burglary.

While the two San Francisco officers continued to question the driver of the car and two passengers, Keate drove around the Southern Hills area and spotted an open garage door at 298 Alta Vista.

Checking it out, he soon discovered the house's occupants were not at home and that the house had been ransacked.

He located a relative of the victims. Officer Keate took the relative back to (See Page 2, Column 6)

City Ends Wage Negotiations; Firemen Get Biggest Increase

Daley City might just have its very own Dr. Henry Kissinger in the form of an assistant to City Manager David Rowe.

He's Raymond Letsinger, former head of the city's Personnel Department before moving to Santa Clara and then back again to Daley City as Rowe's assistant.

Not only was Letsinger able to bring both the city administration and employees together in record time during year-end wage and fringe benefit negotiations, he received praise from both sides Monday.

Employees from the city's various departments congratulated him for "your straightforwardness during negotiations."

And the administration.

including members of the City Council, patted Letsinger on the back for being able to "sell" the employees a far lower pay package than they had asked for.

Firemen received the biggest jump — 7.8 per cent plus 2½ per cent incentive pay for those with a fire science degree.

Next, police and other city employees agreed on a 7.5 per cent pay hike.

In the case of police, officers attending Police Officer Standards and Training advanced certificate courses will get a 2½ per cent incentive raise.

Other city employees were granted an increase in unused sick leave pay. That is, sick leave accrued.

(Previously, it was paid at 50 per cent of accrued leave.)

The departments had gone into round-the-clock negotiations with the city loaded for bear, asking for pay raises ranging from 13 to 30 per cent, plus increased fringe benefits.

John Martin, president of the Daley City Fire Fighters Local Union 1879, summed it up by noting in a letter to Letsinger:

"Although we have some unsettled items to work out, we also look forward to next year... it was a hard fight by both sides."

It also had been a hard-fought battle between Rowe's staff and some members of the council.

Two weeks ago, when revenue sharing recommendations were presented to the City Council by Rowe, Councilman William Schumacher spoke out on partial funding of the summer recreation program, instead of full funding.

Schumacher indicated the city could dip a little deeper into the revenue sharing monies and fund the entire 13 school program.

But Rowe has maintained that since the Jefferson Elementary School District elected to cut off its $49,000 share of the project earlier this year, the city must curtail some of the summer activities.

Rowe recommended the program be carried on at six school sites.

Councilman Paul Hupf also questioned transfer of some $9,000 in funds from the recreation fund to Parks Division to pay for past services two weeks ago. Hupf asked that a warrant for construction material be tabled pending further information on the matter.

However, with the exception of the city's proposed new "super agency," Monday's budget and revenue sharing matters were dealt with swiftly and with little or no comment either way.

With support from Schumacher, Councilman Hupf said he wanted the record to reflect that he was not in favor of the proposed three department umbrella agency which would encompass the city's Planning Department.

JESD New Budget OK'd

The Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees approved a tentative budget of $10,928,790 for 1974-75 at its meeting June 26.

And in another matter taken up by the school board, the trustees took a step toward solving the ongoing problems with Daley City's Vista Grande Cable Television Company.

As for the budget, Business Manager John Lynch said there probably would be no major changes from this version and the final one that the board is slated to adopt August 7, except in the area of teachers' wages.

Lynch said the budget provides a 3½ per cent salary increase. Any additional wages, he said, would probably come from a $466,831 contingency fund, of which about $300,000 is usually maintained by the board as an emergency fund for any unexpected necessary expenditures during the year.

Jim Cannon, chairman of the Certificated Employees Council and spokesman for the teachers in their salary negotiations, said they were promised a six per cent pay increase by Supt. Keith Breon. Cannon said the teachers are asking for 12.75 per cent hike, but that they expected to settle "somewhere in between" that figure and six per cent.

When asked about the discrepancy between Breon's offer of a six per cent raise, and the budget figure of three and half per cent, Lynch said the difference, if approved, would come out of the contingency funds.

Lynch has said previously that "the only way the district could afford to operate with any wage increase is to either trim programs, increase class sizes or ask for a tax increase."

The board is to discuss the possibility of asking for a tax increase at tonight's meeting. Lynch, warning that "costs are up and income down," said the board "cannot delay consideration of a tax increase request" on the November ballot. A decision on such a request must be made by mid-August to meet legal deadlines.

The board's action regarding cable television goes back about three years to two main problems.

One of the problems has been the failure of Vista Grande to make cable television available to the schools, which was part of the franchise agreement between the city and the company.

The other difficulty arose because a cable was laid across school property at both John F. Kennedy and Thomas Edison schools, without the approval of the board.

After hearing from Spence Wood, manager of Vista Grande, the board agreed to direct the district administration to determine if cable could legally be on school property and whether the lines would still remain there; and to further study the matter of how and when cable television could come

Debate Over Possible Fire Station Relocation

A lot of people are raising the roof over the possibility that Daley City's fire station on Lake Merced Boulevard may be razed to make room for an expanded sewage treatment plant.

They say moving the station would be disastrous to residents of the area in case of fire.

Others claim they bought their homes in that particular neighborhood because of the assurance they got from the fact an emergency facility was located in their midst.

Still others turn up their noses at the thought of a sewage treatment plant in their backyard.

Fact is, the sewage treatment plant is situated directly behind a drive-in restaurant; next to an elementary school; across from a well-known restaurant; adjacent to a shopping center; and surrounded by homes since Westlake was built more than two decades ago.

There have been few complaints registered, and none of any great magnitude, though the plant has undergone considerable expansion in recent years.

But the hue and cry raised over removal of the fire station to make land available for another treatment plant expansion is something new.

What the North County Sanitation District wants to do is purchase the property from the city for an estimated $350,000. The plant itself sits in a sort of depression and the station on a bluff overlooking the plant — level with Lake Merced Boulevard.

The expansion would be constructed under the hill with tennis courts or a mini-park on top.

Would the removal of the station from this area endanger lives and property, safety experts were asked?

The consensus from fire experts was a firm "no."

Fire Chief Keith Schrock, a firefighter for more than 25 years, said he has "always been against having that station there."

But he allowed there are other stations he isn't exactly overjoyed with — locationwise.

The so-called Bayshore District station near the Cow Palace is one.

Bayshore station was inherited when the city annexed that area some years ago.

Schrock, like other firemen, frowns on fire stations situated on "boundary lines."

Examples: Both Lake Merced (Central) and Bayshore are squatting on the San Francisco-San Mateo County line.

Trucks have only one way to go, unless, of course, they are called into cover for the other county under mutual aid pacts.

But we could do that from any station. Our most important duty is to protect

SF Youth Shot in Holdup

A San Francisco youth was shot in the back of the neck Wednesday night by a store clerk while allegedly trying to rob the 7-11 store at 1010 Hillside Boulevard, Daley City Police report.

The shooting victim was operated on at Chope Hospital and released Saturday.

Police said three youths walked into the store shortly before 11 p.m. and confronted store employee Joseph Steinberg, 20, of Daley City. While two of the men remained near the front entrance of the store, police reported a third youth brandished a .22 caliber weapon and forced Steinberg to the rear of the building.

Another store employee, Joseph Yates, 33, of Daley City, was working at the rear of the store at the time. As the gunman, identified by police as Rodney Maurice Green of San Francisco, turned his attention toward Yates, who was loading a freezer with food, Steinberg jumped him.

In the ensuing struggle, Green dropped the gun and it went off. As Green started to flee the store, police said, Steinberg grabbed the gun and shot Green in the back of the neck.

He Tried To Escape On a Bus

A 20-year-old Chicago man learned Thursday morning you don't use a Daley City Northgate Transit bus as a getaway vehicle.

The man, who allegedly held up the Beneficial Finance office at Park Plaza, fled the office with "several hundred dollars" and boarded a bus nearby, according to police. He was arrested by Daley City police within four minutes of the alleged robbery.

Charged with armed robbery was Larry Darnell Holmes of Chicago.

According to police, Holmes entered the Beneficial office at 8:41 Thursday morning armed with a blue steel revolver. He locked the manager, Victor Adams in a back room and fled with a cash box.

Police said Adams freed himself and called police and that a Beneficial employee, Beverly Phipps, told officers she saw a man fitting the description of the suspect boarding a Northgate bus on her way to work.

The bus was stopped at Washington and 87th Street by Sgt. Robert Inbrigtson, who arrested Holmes without a struggle.

DC Police Captain John Walsh to Retire

Daley City Police Captain John Walsh is expected to formally announce his retirement after 27 years of active law enforcement service in the community.

The development is a surprise move by Walsh, who was one of the city's top police officers being considered for the post of police chief, replacing the late Roland Petrocchi, who died Easter Sunday.

Walsh is a senior in years — he is 55 — to Captains David Hansen and Richard Sims, both of whom are being considered for chief. Hansen is now acting police chief, and Sims recently returned from the FBI Academy.

Walsh's retirement will become effective Sept. 15. Meanwhile he is vacationing in Hawaii with his wife, Alice.

He would have had to retire in five years at age 60. He called his more than two decades of service with the department "rewarding as well as challenging," and added that his decision to retire "was not a simple one."

Walsh said he has been

offered a teaching position at the College of San Mateo in the Police Science Department. The job pays $18,000 a year. In addition to his teaching salary, Walsh will receive some $12,000 a year in retirement pension. He also is writing a book, which is scheduled to be published in the fall.

San Mateo Community College District Trustees are expected to act on Walsh's teaching appointment at their July 15 meeting.

Walsh called teaching his "second love." He has taught police night science classes at the college for several years.

In 1972 Walsh was named Police Officer of the Year by the California Peace Officers Association. He was honored for his bravery in entering a store unarmed with three would-be robbers, holding the store clerk hostage and threatening to kill him. Walsh talked with the gunmen and made arrangements with them to leave the store without harming the hostage.

The three gunmen were captured minutes after they fled the scene in a vehicle.

Westmoor Band in Lions Parade

Lions from throughout the Peninsula are joining their international counterparts this week as nearly 40,000 Lions converge on San Francisco for their 57th annual convention.

Westmoor High School of Daley City will be among the bands marching in tonight's four-hour-long Lions parade in San Francisco.

Director Howard Loeffler said the Ram marching unit would be leading one of the Lions International delegations.

The parade will start at 7 p.m.

Lions from 146 nations and geographic areas of the world are in The City for their 57th annual convention.

Governor Reagan will address the Lions at today's opening session.

Others to speak during the three-day convention include Mayor Joseph Alioto and Art Linkletter. A special Lions International Humanitarian award will be presented entertainer Danny Kaye.

Highlights will include: Today — First convention session, Civic Auditorium, Governor Ronald Reagan to address Lions, Mayor Joseph Alioto's welcome, International Flag Ceremony, Lions International Parade: floats, bands, marching delegations.

Thursday — Second convention session, Civic Auditorium, Memorial service honors Lions International officers, directors and Lion members who have passed away in the last year, Youth Exchange Seminar at Brooks Hall for Lions who work with international exchange program, Helen Keller seminars on sight and hearing conservation — Lions International's most well-known service efforts studied with an aim toward expansion and improvement.

Friday — Leo Club chairman seminar at Brooks Hall for Lions who work with youth; International Relations Seminar, Brooks Hall — promotes world-wide goodwill through service, Lions International Stamp Club forum for Lions whose hobby helps them serve others, International Night — entertainers from all over the world perform.

Saturday — Final convention session, Civic Auditorium, American Optometric Association presents Apollo Award to Lions International.

JOHN DALY BOULEVARD, Daly City's newest landscaped thoroughfare has been accepted by the council. Costing more than $2 million (gas tax monies from Federal, State and County sources) the project began in 1970 with relocation of families living in path of the roadway. Project design was by Wilsey & Ham of Foster City, construction engineering by the city staff under engineer

David Macabee, and construction by Piombo Corporation of San Carlos from June 1973 to May 1974. Macabee said not only is boulevard beautiful, but was opened in time to relieve increased traffic flow generated by BART station (lower right). Scene is looking west from Mission Street.

(Continued from Page 1) into the schools. The administration is to issue a report of their findings Wednesday. Board President Dorothy Adams expressed concern over the cable lines on the school, saying there were questions of whether the school district would be liable if damage were done to one of the cables, and if the company would carry insurance that would protect the school in case of an accident involving them.

Wood said the company would draw up an agreement, though he said there was "not much chance of anyone getting hurt" by touching the cable.

In other business, the board:

Approved the proposal to accept the amendments in the budget to include the $774,731 Emergency School Aid Act grant.

Heard a proposal from the district's Management Team that a "Function and Operation" procedure be adopted and implemented that would assure the "Team" of having a voice in issues of the district and school operation which fall within specifications of positions designated as Management Team. The board decided to hold off a decision until a new superintendent is chosen, so "a carefully defined process could then be worked out where everyone's feelings are heard."

Authorized the administration to obtain an appraisal on the 21 acre Savage School site as a preliminary step for consideration of its sale.

Good News for DC Residents

This story is for Daly City residents!

We have some good news. And we have some "gooder" news.

First the good news.

It doesn't appear that this year's city budget will top last year's $8.6 million budget because of the decrease in capital outlay costs.

Now the "gooder" news.

Property owners may even get their tax rate lowered.

How much, or even if it can be done, is still up in the air at city hall.

But the financial wizards that punch punchcards and feed them into those flashing punchcard-hungry machines (called computers) are trying.

City officials acknowledge they haven't received an annual assessment breakdown from the county as yet.

However, they are optimistically predicting that they may do better than just "hold the line" on taxes this year.

And there isn't even a municipal election scheduled until 1976.

Redevelopment Agency and Housing.

Of the total $117,370 allocated to the Daly City Redevelopment Agency in its 1974-75 preliminary budget, some $85,000 is earmarked for the new agency.

Hupf asked what the new department would do with the increased number of planners contemplated.

Schumacher said he wanted the matter brought back before the council before any hiring or duty statements are accomplished.

Mayor McRobert Stewart responded that this has always been a matter of procedure for the council, and would continue as long as he is mayor.

SSF Council Votes Street Widening OK

Despite a vehement protest, Monday night, the South San Francisco City Council decided to go ahead with widening of the streets of a small neighborhood bounded by El Camino Real, South San Francisco High School, and an old railroad track.

Because three of its major streets are named A, B and C, the project is known as the ABC assessment district.

Frank J. Addiego, director of public services, asked the council for authority to call together property owners to explain the proposed project.

This would be followed by circulation of a petition which, to be effective, must be signed by all of the owners of more than 60 per cent, in area, of the property in the assessment district.

Addiego estimated the cost to the owner of a typical 5000-foot lot as $1,745 lump sum payment — or a $185 a year payment for 15 years, which would come to $2,775.

Ken Bachman of 226 B St., declared that $185 represents a month's income to those on pensions. "I don't know where the interest in this widening started. It would not add that much to our property values."

He announced that a petition against the widening is circulating in the ABC neighborhood.

"It is up to the property owners," Councilman Leo Padreddi declared. "We will not force the project upon the neighborhood."

Padreddi added that Bachman is "entitled to his opposition," but, "I don't think that he is entitled to speak for the whole area. We should let the area know that the city is interested in doing something for it. It is one of the oldest areas of the city and the city has done little for it."

Councilmen Warren Steinkamp and Dick Battaglia urged the utilities be relocated underground.

Addiego said undergrounding the utilities would be far more expensive. While the city has $75,000 in undergrounding funds from PG&E, he said such imminent improvement projects as Airport Boulevard and East Grand Avenue should have priority. He estimated the undergrounding cost at $400-$500 thousand.

Addiego estimated the total cost of the project at $529,080.

Of this sum, the city would pay $203,630 to relocate 20 manholes, 13,490 feet of sewer line and the fire alarm system. Four utility firms would pay $150,600 of this amount to move power poles, television cables and water mains.

He said $174,850 would be financed by property owners for new sidewalks, curbs and gutters, removing 20 trees, relocating water meters, and putting in new streets and driveways.

Incidental costs would bring the property-owners' share to $221,172, including city inspection fees, engineering costs, legal costs, bond discount and a contingency sum of $17,480.

Steinkamp viewed with alarm the current danger that a firetruck on its way to a fire could be blocked by a single car.

The project also includes First and Second Street widenings, and linkage by the city of B and C Streets through the South San Francisco High School. Talks are currently in progress between the city and school district.

A second linkage, C and Second Streets, is currently stalled because the old street car right of way which would have been used is wanted by San Francisco as a future BART right of way. It was reported by Addiego.

South San Francisco's City Hall

Out of the Past, Into the Present

By JACK BIK

What do you do when you have a 56-year-old city hall built for a city of 5,000 souls, when your population has reached 50,000 and is still growing?

The answer, at first, may seem obvious. In South San Francisco, however, there is a further complication. They love their City Hall so much that no one would stand for it being torn down.

Erected in 1918, the old building has been a landmark ever since. It is a replica of Philadelphia's Independence Hall, with a stately bell tower in the middle. Visible for miles around, it becomes a Yuletide showplace when it is lit up in different colors for Christmas.

The benches of the park surrounding it are filled every afternoon with retired men reminiscing with each other.

Since his appointment, nearly a year ago, City Manager Ed Alario has been having walls and doors moved, various ceilings lowered, and carpeting installed in order to make the building more usable for its increased staffing. Finally, it was decided that the outside walls had to be moved; there was no way the housing problem could be solved without adding more square feet in Alario's view.

The problem was pointed up when a council split, with acrimonious debate, attracted hundreds of citizens to the council meetings in 1972 and early 1973.

It became obvious that the old city hall lacked adequate room for the public — in the council chambers and the council lobby, and in facilities such as restrooms.

Last month, the councilmen interviewed a number of architects. One in particular, councilmen decided, filled the bill. Lawrence de Wolf talked with the councilmen about how to make the new wing look like part of the old building.

DeWolf hopes to have his plans ready to go to bid by about July 15, after which it would take about 10 months to complete the addition, whose cost is estimated at $280,000.

The addition will contain a brand-new council chamber on the top floor and an extension to the main floor administration services office in back.

The new wing will face Miller Avenue, with the front of the building, facing Grand Avenue, being unchanged.

The new entrance to the council chamber will be level with the parking lot off of Miller Avenue, with the stairs now needed to enter the main parking lot eliminated. In their place will be a new entrance plaza. There will be a council lobby big enough to mill around during intermission, with new restrooms.

The council chamber will boast built-in televising facilities, thus eliminating the current maze of cables, plus other audio-visual and sound facilities. Seating will be enlarged 50 per cent with a slanting floor and the council and staff seating will be arranged for greater audience visibility. Behind the new council chamber, in what is the current council chamber, will be conference rooms and offices for the mayor and councilmen.

The new council chamber will be finished off in natural woods and vinyl wall fabrics. While the addition will be in keeping with the decor of the old building, full advantage will be taken of modern materials.

The council chamber, de Wolfe said, will be similar in style to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors chamber, "but not so elaborate."

De Wolfe is having little problem duplicating the tall, round-topped windows, the plaster moldings and other marks of the old building. He is having quite a time, however, duplicating the bricks.

"It's a fired item," he said. "Even if we can find out exactly how they were made, we still would have difficulty aging them through 50 years of sun and storm."

Fortunately, only the top floor has the brick finish.

De Wolfe calls the building "Georgian-Colonial" style. Duplicating the old building, he says, is a more expensive way of building — but a new city hall would cost more than $1½ million.

Man Stabbed

A Daly City man was in fair condition today at Mary's Help Hospital after he was stabbed in the chest during a heated argument Monday night.

Garmon Bell, 24, of 175 Second Avenue, Apartment 135, was in the hospital's intensive care ward, authorities said.

The work will also involve a great deal of remodeling, since the building has deteriorated in many respects. The tower will be strengthened to the point where it is safe against wind and storm, and will even be able to hold a bell. Its offices will no longer be cold in winter and hot in the summer, but will have modern air conditioning.

Originally, the building was more than just a city hall. It held the police department, a small jail, and a courtroom, where former Municipal Judge Tom Bocci presided for the entire Northern Judicial District until 1956.

The most out-of-date segment of the building — in the view of some observers — is the remodeling that was done when the court moved out. A big planter was put in the main floor lobby, and another planter was placed in the council chamber lobby upstairs.

A hole, with a railing around it, was put in the council lobby floor, and a modern chandelier was hung through the hole.

Considerable Philippine mahogany was put up. Most of this decor will be torn out, so there no longer will be any trace of the fifties.

Instead, South San Francisco's new city hall will be timeless.

College Trustees Approve

$26.7 Million Budget

The trustees of the San Mateo Community College District Wednesday approved a 1974-75 preliminary budget of $26.7 million.

Combined with a special reserve fund and a student aid fund, the total package comes to nearly $28.9 million.

The board of trustees, meeting at Skyline College in San Bruno, voted to cut its 74-75 expenditures for community services by about $107,000 with the hope that the money can be made up by an expected increase in assessed valuation (AV). That cut came to 1/2-cent on the tax rate for community services.

The board trimmed another two cents off that tax rate. That money would have been used to stock a reserve devoted to future construction projects in the three-school system.

The district can levy as much as five cents per $100 of AV for community services.

The board, noting that the district will soon face a drastic fiscal crunch because of state law and inflation, did not tinker with the general fund tax rate, opting to seek the maximum funds allowable.

If approved as the final budget in August, this budget would increase the district's tax rate from just over 72 cents in 1973-74 to over 74 1/2 cents in the coming fiscal year.

The district's administration had urged that the board levy a tax rate of over 77 cents by utilizing the full five cents in community services.

The push to reduce the 74-75 community services allocation was led by trustee James Tormey. He got support from the other board members present after it was pointed out that it is expected that increases in San Mateo County's total AV could be far above those predicted by the district's own financial experts.

The board is thus hoping for a windfall to boost the funds for community services.

As part of their budget discussion, the trustees also deferred any decision on a $205,000 item ticketed for new educational program development and master planning.

The board members asked that the matter be referred back to the administration for more analysis. Of the $205,000, more than $152,000 was earmarked for new programs by the administration, something Tormey and trustee Eleanor Nettle could not accept Wednesday. They both said that allocation seemed to conflict with the whole idea of master planning itself.

Also related to the budget, the trustees listened for 100 minutes to a presentation from the Ethnic Studies Division of the College of San Mateo.

The gist of that presentation was two-fold: The division wants more money in 74-75 to expand and improve its course selections; and, some of the people in that division believe that the district is not coming close to implementing the tenets of affirmative action, the fair employment concept mandated by the state. The two areas are related.

There are no full-time faculty staffers in this division, it was pointed out.

Spokesmen for the division's desires offered the board a set of deadlines bearing on shoring up the division, both in terms of full-time staff and programs.

One speaker, instructor Sidney Walton, told the board, in light of the apparent abundance found in the 74-75 budget, "all we want is the leftovers."

He said the leftovers appear to be worth about $1.4 million, a figure found in the 74-75 beginning balance of the special reserve fund.

Although the list of speakers espousing the merits of ethnic studies emphasized repeatedly that such courses are certain producers of income for the district in terms of state money per full-time student, the president of CSM, David Mertes, disagreed.

Speaking to reporters after the division's presentation had been made, Mertes explained that, in the current summer school at the school, there are eight courses being offered in the division of ethnic studies.

So far, he said, only 44 students have signed up to take the classes. He said it is likely that all eight of the classes will have to be folded because of lack of interest.

There is a chance, he said, that two of the courses might be combined to produce one viable unit.

This past spring, Zelte Crawford, chairman of the department, stated that 220 students took courses in eight classes, in the division, a ten-fold increase since the division's inception five years ago.

According to figures released by CSM, about 10 per cent of the CSM student body is composed of ethnic minorities.

Mertes offered figures tending to show that interest in ethnic studies at the school has declined steadily in the last four years. He said 202 students took classes in the division this past spring.

From a high of nearly 40 students per class in 1970-71, the total has fallen to just over 25 per class this past year.

The board, in response to the presentation, referred the matter back to the administration.

The 73-74 budget for ethnic studies was just over $27,000.

No Quorum at PAC Meeting

There was no quorum at the Daly City Redevelopment Project Area Committee's third public meeting at City Hall June 25.

Of the 21 members appointed to the PAC, only 11 showed up.

Instead of a regular meeting, or completely abandoning its agenda, committee members decided to hold "informal talks" on several matters.

Paramount among the issues discussed was the now-controversial draft sign ordinance, scheduled for its first public hearing at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the City Hall before the Planning Commission.

There had been talk earlier of merchants boycotting this commission meeting. However, it was learned members of the Mission Merchants Association, led by Vince Merlo, Chamber of Commerce, headed by Frank Spadarella, and Project Area Committee members will attend.

Redevelopment staff planner Don Ciucci expressed hope the city's business community would provide needed input on the sign issue.

He urged all to attend the public hearing.

Already, however, the Project Area Committee has become what one city official called "lax" in attending sessions. He hoped the lack of a quorum at Tuesday's meeting was not a barometer of things to come concerning this group.

And while the sign ordinance dominated the Tuesday meeting, the group did find time to go over the initial draft plan for the Mission Street-Junipero Serra Boulevard revitalization project.

It was expected this plan, with modifications, will be adopted by the PAC within three to six months, according to Ciucci.

The dra plan had been given to members during its second meeting last month for study and comment.

The main bone of contention between merchants and the city concerning the sign ordinance is the amortization section which would direct when illegal signs must be removed.

Project Area Committee members had asked the Planning Commission earlier this month to table the draft law until it could see which way redevelopment would go.

"Why be forced to replace a sign if the building is to be torn down as part of the redevelopment project," Merlo said.

Fred Martin, an insurance executive with offices in the heart of the Mission Street redevelopment project area, said he wanted the sign draft tabled.

Protests Deluge Council on Pacifica Sewer Charges

"I'll be damned if I'll have anything to do with increases of 480, 625 and 750 per cent in fees!" exclaimed Pacifica City Councilman Stan Farber, expressing opposition June 24, to a proposal to increase sewer connection fees.

ASSIGNED TO BEALE
Airman David J. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Anderson of 617 Hemlock Ave., South San Francisco, has been assigned to Beale AFB, Calif., after completing Air Force basic training.

Rates for homes would soar from $125 to $600, and apartments, from $60 to $450 per unit. Similar increases would be provided for businesses and other uses.

Farber's opposition, added to protests from the Board of Realtors and the Chamber of Commerce, resulted in a discussion, lasting over an hour.

A special study session was tentatively set for July 16.

Action involving increases in the sewer service charge from $18 to $40 a year was delayed and a special committee was appointed by Mayor Aubrey Lumley. It is to be composed of representatives of the chamber, the real estate board, homeowner and neighborhood groups. The group will study complaints that business which produce less sewage, must pay higher fees, as well as other complaints of inequities. The committee is expected to start its meeting in August. A February deadline was set for its report, so the council can act on the matter for the 1975-76 fiscal year.

Coast Federal Savings gave us a lot to start with.

Some people can only afford to put away a small amount of money. Some people can see their way clear to save a large amount of money. At Coast we have a savings plan for both kinds of people.

High Interest. Our interest rates have never been higher. We pay from 5 1/4 to 7 1/2%. Our regular passbook accounts let you deposit money or take it out anytime you like. Of course, federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty on all certificate account withdrawals prior to maturity.

If you need further information, one of our trained counselors will be happy to give it to you. In fact, it's our job to show you how your money can work harder for you. Even if you don't have a lot to start with.

haps along Junipero Serra Blvd. would have what is referred to as "straight in" access to fire locations.

The body of a South San Francisco man, believed to have died from a drug overdose, was found Thursday in the restroom of a gas station at 101 Arroyo Drive, according to the coroner's office.

Officials said the body of Louis Carlos Serena, 36, of 828 Camaritas Ave., was found shortly after 2 p.m. Beside the body, according to officials, was found narcotics paraphernalia.

A coroner's office spokesman said the victim had a history of being a narcotics user.

Taking Pleasure Out of Politics

Politics should be fun, but often isn't. Because elections are the American way of distributing power, little has been left to chance. Under the pressure of essential success, political methods have evolved that are highly similar to those of big business.

Money, organization, and public relations have combined to take a great deal of pleasure out of the game. Consider what has happened.

Money, once aptly described by Jesse Unruh as "the mother's milk of politics" has been the catalyst. With huge campaign chests, public relations men have been able to peddle candidates like soap. Image and reality have often differed so radically that the candidate and the real life human are two completely different people.

Not every election has been bought, but many have been. All too often this result has only been avoided by the over-funding of both candidates. On many occasions good government has gagged on an overdose of mother's milk.

Money has been so essential that candidates have given a first lien on their time to fund raisers and fund raising events. Person to person contact has mainly been reserved for donors and denied members of the general public. It is no accident*that so many office holders have such a strange view of America — the system has compelled them to spend a disproportionate amount of time with the affluent.

Money has affected organization also. The relationship between candidate and supporters should be natural and human. With highly funded campaigns has come Efficiency, and with some of the things done in pursuit of Efficiency a part of the joy of electioneering has been stifled.

For big elections (President, governor, senator, and some others) plenty of volunteers are available. Some of these are seasoned veterans, with years of know-how of such essential chores as registration, voter identification, and election day activities.

In recent years both parties have tended to rely more and more on young professionals (the crew cut young men), often engaged in their first time around the track. With campaign managers have to go — among them, over-reliance on heavy money, heavy staff, and heavy public relations programs.

The campaign that most clearly understands this probably will win. The winner will run a less rigid, but in many ways more rewarding, campaign: volunteers will play a larger role, and there will be greater opportunity for initiative and innovation on the county and city levels.

The successful campaign must grasp immediately the full meaning of money limitation. Some functions will, of necessity, be delegated to the regular party organization, where they belonged in the first place. Some expensive programs of questionable value will have to be eliminated.

A San Francisco man lost control of his car on Junipero Serra Blvd. early Monday and slammed into a PG&E utility pole, blacking out a wide area of the eastern sector of Daly City for some five hours, police report.

Police said Basilio Med-

Medina was arrested and charged with drunken driving, police said.

Readers who enjoy new approaches to theatrical productions will have an opportunity to sample a "Readers Theater" beginning this weekend in Pacifica.

The Pacifica Spindrift Players will open a reading version of George Orwell's novel, "Animal Farm" on Friday at the Oddstad Park Center, 1000 block on Crespi Drive.

For the uninitiated, such as I, in reader's theater each of the readers has one or more principal roles with which he or she is identified and one or more minor roles to read. In addition, each reader takes a turn serving as the story narrator, aiding the principal narrators in the progressing story.

According to Gary Nelson of the Spindrift group, readers theater allows the members of the audience to sit back and enjoy the play much as we enjoyed radio, prior to the advent of television. Scenery and costumes as such are not used and the action or any physical movement is suggested rather than enacted so the viewer can envision the action in his/her mind. Character relationships and motives are supplied to the story line by the beholder. Really audience participation! Even the lighting and music are used to enhance moods and suggest time periods. Sounds like great fun!

Kathy McIntyre, Lynn Levine, Luther Spraker, Paul Brenke, Brent Burgess, Stuart McIntyre, Bev Gabrielli and Lisa Levine are the eight readers for the Animal Farm, and they will be weaving a story of tragedy in a mythical barnyard that will shake the audience since the "beasts" involved in the tale are prototypes of personality types everyone can identify.

Animal Farm will be presented on Friday and Saturday, July 5 and 6, July 12 and 13 and July 19 and 20. Curtain time will be at 8:30 p.m. for each performance, and tickets will be sold at the door.

MRS. JOHN CONNOLLY, incoming president of the Friends of the Daly City Library, entertained the retiring board as well as the incoming officers at a luncheon held in her home one recent afternoon.

Both groups of officers thoroughly enjoyed the lovely luncheon, topped off by an elegant chocolate mousse, and were excited over the prospects ahead for the Friends. Many officers are returning to serve a second or third year on the board and all feel very optimistic over the future of Daly City libraries.

Serving with Mrs. Connolly for the 74-75 year will be Mrs. James Hough, vice president; Mrs. Albert Teglia, recording secretary; Mrs. Samuel Mikulin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elvina Summell, treasurer; Mrs. Anthony Barichievich, Mrs. Hubert Sandefur, Mrs. F. Lincoln Walters and Mrs. Michael Daw all of the directors board; Mrs. Emmett Tierney, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. C. Kincaid, book review chairman; Mrs. Alvin Schwarzbach, book fair chairwoman; Mrs. William Bagnall, membership chairwoman; Mrs. Tierney, publicity; Mrs. U. R. Kendtree, liaison library trustee and Mrs. Klaus Tschorsning, hospitality chairwoman.

GLYNNIS HEISENBUTTLE, a senior Girl Scout from Daly City has been selected to participate in Scouting's Wider Opportunities program, according to word from Mrs. Roz Marino of the local district.

Glynnis will take part in a program called Aides To Mentally Retarded Girls in Texarkana, a project of the Conifer Girl Scout Council.

With other senior scouts chosen from all over the United States, Glynnis will plan and help operate a six-day day camp for 40 mentally retarded children aged 7 to 17, who live at the Arkansas Children's colony in Arkadelphia, Arkansas.

Two Pacificans Sharing Exhibit

Two Pacifica residents, Sheila Gamble and Rich Seymour are sharing an exhibit at Periwinkle Art Gallery, 1227 Danmann in Pacifica. Both are residents of Shelter Cove on Pedro Point.

Sheila Gamble is showing drawings and weaving. She was born in San Francisco and graduated from San Francisco State. Ms. Gamble taught elementary school in San Francisco, but left her teaching career to travel. She began studying weaving in 1970 and worked three summers in Canada with Swedish weaver Lilly Bohlin. In 1972 she gave weaving workshops in Anchorage, Alaska. In Alaska she renewed her interest in drawing and watercolor.

Ms. Gamble has exhibited in Alaska, Canada and San Francisco. She will enter her weaving in Fibre Illusions, a large weaving show at the Transamerica building, starting July 8 and at "3 Bags Full," San Francisco, starting July 1.

Photographer Rich Seymour attends Ohio State University studying art and science. He spent two years in the Navy. While in the service he discovered his love for photography. Rich has worked as an inspector for General Motors, a fork lift mechanic, free lance portrait photographer and owner of a jewelry and photo store in Spanish Town Galleries, Half Moon Bay.

Seymour is married and has two children. He helped in the filming of a movie depicting his wife's journey on the raft "Acali."

The show will run through July 29. Sheila Gamble's weaving will be on exhibit until July 7.

Gallery hours: Tuesday through Friday, 12 to 6 p.m., Sat. 10 to 5 p.m., Sunday, 12 to 5 p.m., closed Monday.

BASIC TRAINING

Navy Fireman Robbie D. Blue, son of Mrs. Mabel Blue of 97 Dockside St., Daly City, has graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

He received nine weeks of intensive instruction in seamanship, small arms training, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Naval history.

He now will report to a formal school for specialty training or to a ship or shore station for on-the-job training.

Garden of The Month Award

Daly City Garden Club beautification committee, Messers L. Filarski and N. Grunke announced that Mrs. M. M. Mills, 907 Heather St., Colma, received the "Daly City Garden Club Garden of the Month" award.

The front lawn beautifully maintained is complemented with a background of evergreens and rhododendrons, the walkway is adorned with magnificent tree roses of various colors. Upon entering the garden gate a beautiful landscaped red brick terrace, enhanced with a ground cover of tam and juniperus mingles with geraniums and eucharis.

On the brick colored patio Mrs. Mills artistically arranged 46 tree and bush roses, ranging in color from deep red to a golden yellow, entwined with potted plants consisting of ranunculus, pansy, lobelia and daisy.

Dried Flower Arranging Class Slated

Mrs. Ann Glimme will instruct a creative dried flower arranging program for the Daly City Recreation Department during the summer months.

The program is designed for persons 16 years of age and older. The eight-week program will utilize dried flowers and grasses as well as driftwood, shells, and pine cones. Table arrangements, wall plaques and unique gift ideas will be created in a variety of containers.

Advance registration is required.

DC Fire Department's Fireworks 'Crackdown'

Daly City Fire Chief Keith Schrock reports that as a part of a statewide effort to reduce injuries and fires caused by illegal fireworks, his department personnel will crack down on those who use cherry bombs, firecrackers, Roman candles and other illegal pyrotechnic devices.

Chief Schrock cites the great number of injuries from these devices which often cause loss of eyesight and serious wounds, mostly to children and bystanders as the reason for a statewide crackdown by the California Fire Chiefs Association.

Chief Schrock is asking that the police department and district attorney's office assist in the program and asks parents to help in keeping these dangerous pyrotechnics from their children by calling the Fire Department and reporting violations. Of particular concern are those who sell these devices.

Legal fireworks ("Safe and Sane") are those devices which are allowed to be sold from June 28 to July 6 and have labels: "Approved - State Fire Marshal's Office." Chief Schrock also warns that the "Safe and Sane" fireworks devices should be used only under adult supervision and care should be taken that sparks be kept away from dry grass, fences and buildings.

Daly City Fire Department records attributed over 100 fires with three serious injuries and over $7,500 in fire losses and suppression costs to fireworks in 1973.

Senior Teen Santa Cruz Trip Planned

The Daly City Recreation Department will sponsor a trip to Santa Cruz beach and boardwalk for senior teens on July 14. Swimming, sunbathing and plenty of boardwalk excitement will be featured in the day's activities.

Chartered buses will pick up at the following sites: Midway Community Center - 10:15 a.m.; War Memorial Community Center - 10:15 a.m.; and Westmoor Park Clubhouse - 10:30 a.m. Approximate return time is 9:30 p.m. The cost is $2.50 for Senior Teen Club members and $3.75 for guests. Cost includes transportation and trip insurance.

Permission slips may be obtained at Midway, Lincoln Park, War Memorial Community Center and Westmoor Park. Money and slips must be turned in to one of the above locations on or before July 12, at 5 p.m.

For details, contact the recreation office at 982-5356.

Multi Media Crafts for Children Set

The Daly City Recreation Department announces a children's summer multimedia program will be offered under the instruction of Mrs. Nian White, art specialist.

The weekly arts and crafts program, which will include painting, sculpture, clay, puppets, and other crafts, will be held at the Arts and Crafts Center, 101 Peoria St. For details, call 982-5356.

Local Academy Committee Formed

Congressman Leo J. Ryan (D-San Mateo County) announced the formation of the 1974 11th Congressional District Academy Selection Committee to be chaired by San Mateo Attorney Phrasel L. Shelton.

Other committee members, who will be interviewing prospective applicants to West Point, Annapolis, the Air Force Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy are: Dr. J. Russell Kent, San Mateo County superintendent of schools; Tom Teshara, regional director for the Naval Academy; Honorable Art Lepore, Millbrae city councilman; Pablo Perez, assistant principal, guidance and counseling, Westmoor High School; Honorable Marguerite Leipzig, Redwood City councilwoman; and George Short, English professor at College of San Mateo.

Shelton's committee will review the qualifications of each applicant and after a series of interviews and deliberations will make recommendations for a principal nominee and alternate nominees to each academy to Congressman Ryan. Last year there were 45 applicants.

Kevin Jaeger and Frank Cademarti. David Falk received the Lion's Club Award, and Kevin Jaeger received the Ralph H. Britton Physics award, the James H. Wise Character Medal and the John Signer Award.

Medical-Dental Staff

Mary's Help Elects New Officers

A new slate of officers for 1974-75 was elected at the quarterly meeting of the Mary's Help Hospital Medical-Dental Staff.

Paul Negulescu, M.D., was voted president, and Reinold J. Jones, M.D., president-elect. Also named to new posts were Thomas J. Caldarola, M.D., secretary-treasurer, and Doctors David Young and Donald Wald, first and second members-at-large, respectively.

Dr. Negulescu is assistant clinical professor of surgery at the University of California School of Medicine and a former secretary-treasurer of the Medical-Dental Staff.

He graduated from George Washington University Medical School, Washington, D.C., and served his internship at Washington Hospital Center.

For two years, Dr. Negulescu served as Assistant Chief of Surgery for the United States Army Hospital at Fort Stewart, Georgia. He completed residencies in surgery at Washington Hospital Center and at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. Dr. Negulescu replaces Samuel D. McFadden, M.D., who served as president for the past three years.

President-Elect Dr. Jones is Chief of the Division of Cardio-Thoracic Surgery at Mary's Help Hospital and has been a staff member since 1959. He is a graduate of Creighton Medical School and served an internship and three year residency in general surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco. He also served a residency in thoracic surgery at Highland-Alameda Hospital, Oakland.

In 1963, Dr. Jones was awarded a one year Fellowship in Cardiac Surgery at St. Vincent's Hospital, Los Angeles, in association with the University of Southern California Medical School. He is also clinical instructor of thoracic surgery at the University of California, San Francisco.

Dr. Jones is certified by the American Board of Surgery and the American Board of Thoracic Surgery. He is a member of the American College of Surgeons, the Society of Thoracic Surgeons, and the San Francisco Surgical Society.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks. At a bridge game the other night, my partner on recovering from the shock of seeing me go down on a two bid, tried to restore my confidence by asking me for a recipe. Fortunately for my ego, I just recently had tested and had not one, but two recipes of the variety she requested. And here they are for my bridge partner and for all you good cooks.

St. Mark's Church in Venice, Calif. published a very fine recipe book a few years ago and I'm still finding new and interesting recipes such as this Banana Nut Bread to test and share.

BANANA NUT BREAD

1 and three-fourths cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
One-third cup shortening
Two-thirds cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup mashed bananas
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Sift together the one and three-fourths cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, fourth teaspoon baking soda and half teaspoon salt. Beat the one-third cup shortening until creamy; add the two-thirds cup sugar and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add the two eggs and beat well. Add the flour mixture alternately with the one cup bananas, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Stir in the half cup nuts. Turn into well greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350-degree oven one hour till done. Cool 10 minutes in pan, remove and finish cooling on cake rack.

This banana coffee cake has everything going for it. Not only attractive and delicious, it is a large cake, giving an excellent return on the ingredients invested, keeps beautifully and travels well in lunches. My thanks to Ceil Collin for sharing this recipe with us.

BANANA COFFEE CAKE

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 cup white sugar
Three-fourths cup brown sugar
Three-fourths cup cooking oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg

Combine the two and one-half cups flour, one cup white sugar, three-fourths cup each brown sugar and oil, half teaspoon salt and one teaspoon nutmeg in large bowl. Mix well.

Take our three fourths cup of mixture and add two teaspoons cinnamon and 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Set aside for topping.

2 eggs, well beaten
1 crushed banana
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda

Add the two eggs, one cup crushed banana, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon each baking powder and baking soda to the dry ingredients. Mix well. Line the bottom of an ungreased tube pan with a double layer of wax paper cut to fit. Pour the cake batter in prepared pan and cover the top with reserved mixture. Bake in 350-degree oven for 40 minutes or till done.

Note that the pan is ungreased.

Lions International Conference Set in SF

July 1 marked the beginning of the San Francisco Conventions of Lions International with visits to the cities of Northern San Mateo County on the agenda of many delegates.

To greet them, the clubs in Pacifica, San Bruno and the two clubs in Daly City are planning many activities that," according to Del Wilson, of the Skyline Lions group, "will show that the Lions Club members in this area are truly interested in the civic, social and moral welfare of their communities."

Foremost among the visitors to San Mateo County will be delegates from Hong Kong who are members of a group that has become a twin club to the Daly City Host Lions Club. Their visit marks a return of a visitation to the Hong Kong Club that was made last summer by members of the Daly City Club.

According to Lions' President Jim Zylla, the delegates from Hong Kong will be guests at a cocktail party and reception at 1086 Springfield Drive, Millbrae at the home of Jack Giusto, past president of the Daly City Club.

The Hong Kong Host Club became a twin to the Daly City Host Club through "twinning exercises" that were held in both Daly City and Hong Kong. Therein, both clubs pledged themselves to support the other in works of service to mankind. Among these activities are care for the blind, adult sponsored activities for youth and the promotion of international understanding.

Lion Presidents Jim Zylla and Del Wilson of the Daly City Clubs announce that the San Francisco convention marks the 57th conference of the international service club.

Special Events Highlight Broadmoor Service

Several special events are slated at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 - 87th St., Daly City.

Elder Rodger Mattson will have returned from 1 1/2 weeks of meetings at the national General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the USA at Louisville, Kentucky. Rodger will speak briefly of his experiences there.

one in the church social hall. Infant care is provided during the morning activities. The public is invited to attend this service and bring children to the Sunday School.

Congregation To Sell

Fireworks

Sabbath Services at Congregation B'nai Israel will be conducted July 5 beginning at 8:30 p.m. The services will be conducted by Cantor Jacob Graudenz and will be assisted by members of the Religious Committee and the Congregation.

Congregation B'nai Israel once again will sponsor a fireworks stand located at the corner of School Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard. The stand will be open everyday until July 4, and all day and during the evening on that day. Chairman of this annual event is Leonard Arbitter assisted by volunteer members of the congregation.

Proceeds will benefit the various religious, educational and cultural projects of the congregation.

"We the people of the United States . . ."
We the people: the residents — some black, some white, some brown; male and female; young and old. The dictionary calls us "a body of persons united by a common character, culture or sentiment."
"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union . . ."

A union is defined as a "uniting of two or more things into one: A coalition, a combination, a cooperation, a uniting A coalition, a combination, a cooperation, a uniting bring about concord in a political body or an association for a common purpose." — Webster's Dictionary.

"The Union forever — Hurrah and Hurrah!
Down with the traitor and up with the star." — From an Old Song.

"I never use the word nation in speaking of the United States: I always use the word Union. We are a Union of sovereign states." — John C. Calhoun.

"One flag, one land, one heart, one hand, our nation evermore." — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice . . ."

Justice: "equitable in action, impartial, legally right; conformed to the truth of things." — Webster's Dictionary.

"What do we want? What is the thing we are after? We want to be Americans, full-fledged Americans, with all the rights of other American citizens." — W. E. B. Du Bois.

"He hath shewed thee, O Man, What is good . . . To do justice, and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God." — Old Testament: Micah 6:8.

"We the people of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare . . ."

"The cement of the Union is the heart-blood of every American." — Thomas Jefferson.

"Blacks can see very clearly that America is a nation built upon inhumanity. The signers of the Declaration of Independence put down their quills to go home and beat their slaves." — Jerry Lester.

"The ground of liberty must be gained by inches." — Thomas Jefferson.

"That'll teach you damned Indians to leave off . . ."

"My love! My Alessandro!
Oh speak once more to Majella!
Why do I not grieve thee more?

There's another Indian village on the high plateaus of San Jacinto." — Helen Hunt Jackson: Ramona.

"Color est e pluribus unus. (Let the many colors blend into one.)" — Virgil.

"We the people of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to us and our posterity . . ."

Liberty: "Exemption from slavery, bondage, imprisonment or control of another." — Webster's Dictionary.

"Look you, I'm a person too." — 8th Grade Newsletter

"Liberty, when it begins to take root, is a plant of rapid growth." — George Washington.

"What light is to the eyes —
What air is to the lungs —
What love is to the heart,
Liberty is to the soul of man.

Without liberty, the brain is a dungeon.
Where the chained thoughts die
With their pinions pressed against the hingeless doors." — R. G. Ingersoll.

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

The Constitution: "Let us raise a standard to which the wise and honest can repair." — George Washington.

"The North! The South! The West! The East!
No one the most and none the least,
But each with his own heart and mind,
Each of his own distinctive kind,
Yet each a part and none the whole
But all together form one soul." — Edmund Vance Cooke.

Local Couples Recite Marriage Vows

Kaiser Gerdes

Mator Dolosa Church in South San Francisco was the setting for the marriage of Irene Mary Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaiser of San Bruno, and Edwin Michael Gerdes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Gerdes of South San Francisco.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of satin and organza trimmed with Swiss lace. She carried white roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Susan Styve, the maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of light blue crepe and carried yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath. Similar gowns and flowers were chosen by the bridesmaids, Kim Jones and Joan Callaway.

Michael Hess was best man and guests were seated by John Cassil and William Mariani.

A reception followed at The Distillery in San Bruno.

Irene was graduated from Crestmoor High School and San Francisco State University. She is the sister of Gary and Paul Kaiser.

Edwin was graduated from El Camino High School and received his A.A. from Skyline College and his B.A. from San Francisco State. He is in the Air Force, undergoing pilot training at Vance Air Force Base in Oklahoma, where he and his bride will live.

Mason-Foss

Bethany Presbyterian Church in San Bruno was the setting for the marriage of Laura Stephanie Mason and Jack Lee Foss.

The Rev. George E. DeWeese conducted the rites which were followed by a reception at Martinelli's.

Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mason of San Bruno. Her bridegroom's parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Foss.

For her wedding, the bride wore a full length ivory lace gown with a high neckline, an Empire waist and an A-line skirt. Mint green gowns with ivory lace bodices were chosen by members of her bridal party.

Tina Rosati was the maid of honor, and Kimberly Mason was the bridesmaid for her sister's wedding.

Best man duties were performed by Dave Wilson. Daniel Foss, the bridegroom's brother, seated guests with Dennis Simmons, Bob Macias and Rick Ericson.

A graduate of South San Francisco High School, the bride also has attended San Francisco State. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elmer Gorsuch who gave her a New Testament she carried for the wedding.

Jack, a graduate of El Camino High School, also has attended San Francisco

ENDS TRAINING

Army private Carl A. Von Mosch, 21, son of Mrs. Lorna J. Von Mosch, 1903 E. Bayshore Rd., Redwood City, completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Armor, Ft. Knox, Ky.

State. He has one sister, Sister AnneMarie, and another brother, Ronald Foss. The newlyweds honeymooned at Lake Tahoe and are now living in San Bruno.

Referral Info Center Mulled

County Health and Welfare Director Dr. George Pickett is being asked to give the Board of Supervisors a report and recommendation concerning possibility of creating a centralized information center to handle the multitude of referral services handled by the county and various organizations.

The request resulted from the board's consideration June 25 of a recommendation that it apply for a $5,000 grant from the National Council on Alcoholism to provide an alcoholism information and referral center.

Chairwoman Jean Fessler inquired as to whether another program might be a duplication of efforts, noting the number of "information switchboards" for such problems as alcoholism, drug abuse and suicide prevention.

In addition, there are information centers in various areas of the county operated by the Economic Opportunity Commission and Human Relations Commission to provide assistance to persons seeking assistance or information of one type or another. The county, primarily the Department of Health and Welfare, also offers a number of information and referral services.

"It seems there are 50 or 60 referral services," commented Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald. "Maybe we should have a hot line with one number for all facilities, county coordinated, instead of a piecemeal operation."

Supervisor Gerald F. Day cautioned, though, that a central referral system might cause many needing help to "fall away" because of a lack of information on specific programs or a confusing mass of referrals back and forth.

"Pretty soon the caller is going to run out of dimes," he stated.

Fitzgerald admitted a centralized system would have to be "very sophisticated" with highly qualified personnel.

"But we might be able to give better service at less cost," he added.

County Manager M. D. Tarsches said he felt it would "be appropriate" to ask Pickett for a report and recommendation.

Mrs. Fessler indicated her favor of the proposal, stating she personally has received many calls from persons not aware of services.

"We could probably solve the problem with one centralized information center," she said.

Tarsches was directed by the board to contact Pickett on the matter.

The board went on to approve the $5,000 program to be financed by funds from the Hughes Alcoholism Program.

The supervisors also authorized acceptance of a separate grant of $93,000 from Hughes funds to include a countywide cost accounting and management survey of all alcoholism programs in the county. The survey will be combined with a similar survey for other countywide programs approved by the board last week in its budget deliberations.

Tarsches said the survey information will determine if programs should be continued, modified, combined or eliminated.

Property Owners May Begin Filing Appeals

Property owners who plan to contest the values placed on their properties by the county assessor may file an appeal, State Board of Equalization Chairman George R. Reilly has advised.

The filing period for residents of San Mateo County is through Sept. 16.

Appeals received after the final filing dates cannot be considered.

If a property owner did not receive notice of the assessed value of his property by July 1, or shortly thereafter, he may obtain the information by visiting the assessor's or county auditor's office, where the roll is kept.

A property owner can contest the assessor's full value estimate if he thinks it is excessive. Except in the case of land in the "open-space" program, "full value" means the best price a willing and knowledgeable seller could obtain for the property from a willing and knowledgeable buyer. To contest the assessor's full value, the property owner should be prepared with information on the market values of comparable properties in the neighborhood.

Reilly advised that an appellant cannot expect relief merely because taxes generally are high or because the current assessed value is considerably higher than last year's. The current assessed value must be excessive relative to what the property was worth on March 1, 1974.

The property owner first may wish to contact the assessor's office and request an explanation of the appraised value of the property. If the explanation does not resolve the issue, the taxpayer then should appeal to the assessment appeals board if the county has created one or more of these boards, or to the Board of Supervisors sitting as a County Board of Equalization. The hearing before such a board is informal, and the taxpayer need not have legal counsel.

Dialing of '411' Is Declining

Peninsula residents are dialing "411" for directory assistance 10 per cent less often now than last year, said Pacific Telephone manager Nick Roden.

The so-called "information explosion" had threatened to increase the directory assistance calling volume in the northern part of California to two million calls a day by 1980. That's the present total number of these calls placed each day in the entire state.

The cost for this service has nearly quadrupled during the past decade, said Roden.

He emphasized that "curbing this drastically rising cost for a service used in large numbers by only a small minority of people is actually cutting expenses that ultimately have to be passed on to every customer."

Credit for the reduction in calls goes to an advertising campaign which PT&T began in May, 1973 on the "$55 million dollar phone call," said Roden. The ad asked customers to look up numbers in their phone directories to help hold down the cost of phone service for everyone.

District to Receive Funds

The South San Francisco Unified School District will be receiving a grant for $40,000 Congressman Leo J. Ryan (D-San Mateo County) announced last week.

The grant from the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will fund a primary level bilingual instruction program for one year, while the project has been approved for a five year period.

"I'm pleased to have funds from the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title VII, come to 11th Congressional District schools," said Ryan in a letter to South San Francisco Mayor Terry Mirri.

The school district should shortly receive the check.

The project includes the development and operation of new programs, services, and activities which meet the special educational needs of children 3 to 18 years of age who have limited English-speaking ability and who come from environments where the dominant language is not English.

Discussions had been going on regarding the esthetic appearance of the 38 foot high tanks located by the railroad tracks at the Oroweat Baking Co. has muffled the noise in its South San Francisco plant's storage tanks, but they might not have been the source of the sleep-disturbing racket after all.

Oroweat attempted to dull the troublesome sound by making various adjustments in four flour storage tanks believed responsible for the noise.

However, it was learned at the South San Francisco Planning Commission meeting last week that the tanks, which everyone assumed to be responsible, might not be the source of the sleep-shattering racket.

Instead, the sound from refrigeration railroad cars parked overnight periodically on the premises was cited as the cause.

The surprising news was made known by Commissioner Roberta Teglia, who read from the police report that the main in charge of the plant the evening of the complaints said the noise came from a refrigeration car.

The Planning Commission first learned of the disturbances May 14 while reviewing Oroweat's existing use permit and non-compliance of conditions.

Discussions had been going on regarding the esthetic appearance of the 38 foot high tanks located by the railroad tracks at the Oroweat plant on 284 Spruce that blows the grain into the cars. The tanks were considered unattractive, so the commission was considering having trees planted and screening placed around them.

Three residents then informed the planners that the problem they mainly were concerned about was the noise they claimed was "worse than some of those jets from the airport."

The commission, unaware of the noise problems, then heard the neighbors' gripes, and decided to give Oroweat some five weeks to find satisfactory solutions.

At the meeting, Oroweat General Manager J. V. Christensen told the commission his company "has retained a noise expert and obtained noise readings. We have done extensive work to mitigate the existing noise problems," Christensen said.

As a result, Christensen said, the "noise problem" is virtually eliminated.

When Teglia introduced the refrigerator car as the possible noisemaker, Christensen's assistant, Fred Rau, said it was "an extraneous matter brought into the situation of the flour tanks and grain cars."

But Commissioner Homer

Vale retorted that the tank noise and refrigerator noise were not separate matters.

"We just didn't conceive there would be more than one source of the noise," Vale said.

Complicating the matter was the sporadic timetable of the noise. One resident said the disturbance continued 12 days during Easter and 30 days at Christmas.

Robert Lewis, a neighborhood leader in the area near Oroweat, said there was one night in May when the sound was bothersome, but that a company spokesman told him it was due to a changing of equipment. Prior to that, Lewis said, the last disturbing noise he heard from the plant was about two months ago.

She's a Pastoral Pioneer

By JOHN HORGAN
"Women have been the backbone of the church for generations. But they have served almost exclusively in a voluntary capacity. Finally, though, they are moving into the ministerial profession itself."

That is Jacquie Meadows talking. And she is familiar with her topic. As the Rev. Jacqueline Meadows, she is one of seven female ministers in the California-Nevada Conference of the United Methodist Church. The other 390 or so are male.

Beginning this week, she will assume pastoral duties at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in South San Francisco. Although the record is unclear, it is believed that she will be the first woman pastor at a major Christian church in San Mateo County's history. She will replace the Rev. Robert Clazie who is leaving the North County for a position in Sacramento.

With those facts alone, Jacquie Meadows would be in a unique position. But there is more to it than that.

She is the former wife of a Methodist minister. She is divorced now. She has four children, three of whom live with her. She is 40 years old and received her master of divinity degree from the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley earlier this month. In a sense, she is starting her life all over again with the South San Francisco appointment.

Is she nervous about what lies ahead for her? Not really.

"I think it's exciting," she says. "The ministry can be a lonely place at times, particularly for a woman. There are no female models to pattern yourself after in this work. I'm not really sure what will happen. I feel a certain amount of ambivalence about the whole thing. I know that the immediate future will be a transition period for both me and my congregation."

St. Paul's has a congregation of about 226 persons. The Rev. Clazie spent more than five years there. A great deal of his time was spent ministering in the community at large. Jacquie Meadows — she prefers to be called that rather than "the Rev. Meadows" because she says titles tend to separate people — plans to wait for a time to see what the congregation wants from her before she begins to implement anything new.

"I won't shove my own interests on the people," she says. "I'll listen first."

She listens well. She is an articulate conversationalist with a quick and open mind and she seems to relish discussions of issues which touch on the problems of society in general.

A stately, attractive woman, she is a native of San Pedro. She spent several years working with her ex-husband at clerical posts in the Northwest. She says, even then, she knew that fulfillment for her lay in becoming a preacher herself.

"Back then, we, my husband and I, thought in terms of a ministerial partnership. But, he got the credit for the work. And I didn't object to that. We served the church together. As one. The wife of a minister serves a very valuable function. But society has changed."

"Until now, there haven't been any avenues for women in this field," she says. She offers that coming into a new church could well be no different for her than it would be for any fresh minister, male or female. "I'll just have to wait and see."

Ordained in 1972 in the Oregon-Idaho Conference of women are being accorded a measure of equal treatment today exhilarates Jacquie.

When she talks about it, she bubbles enthusiastically. "It is marvelous to see all this untapped potential finally being reached," she states.

She says there is a pervading sense of liberation for a number of groups both here in this country and worldwide. She views that trend as an exceedingly healthy one.

In that regard, she points out that officials at St. Paul's, along with the conference bishop, R. Marvin Stuart of Burlingame, have exhibited an openness and a strong desire to have her at the North County church which, for her, is encouraging.

Clearly, the theological barriers to women are beginning to crack in a number of churches. Several Protestant churches have been ordaining women to full ministry for some time. But the problem for the women has been getting a pastorship. Most congregations are wary of appointing a female as pastor.

Although Jacquie Meadows is in the vanguard of the women's movement in religion, there are more females on the way.

One-third of the 1973-74 incoming class at the Pacific School of Religion was female.

Very soon, the Rev. Jacqueline Meadows won't be alone.

'I Won't Shove My Interests on the People'

"Becoming a minister was something I had to do. I feel much more complete today. I guess it is a fulfillment of the creative process for me. In many ways, this is the first time I've been on my own in years."

Jacquie says her ministry in South San Francisco could help to alter some tired stereotypes for a lot of people, both in and out of the church. "A new image could come out of my work there," she speculates.

For one thing, she regards her three children and herself as a family in the finest sense of the word, even though her former husband no longer lives with them. And, of course, the notion of a female pastor will shatter an icon or two as well.

She believes strongly that women can function quite well in the traditionally all-male clerical role.

the United Methodist Church, she has worked on the staff of the Rose City Park United Methodist Church in Portland. Since 1972, she has been studying for her degree at the Berkeley seminary and teaching there as well. Her special interest is liturgical dance.

She has also written a chapter for a book about the struggles of women in the theological community which is expected to be published soon.

Although she is not a strident or shrill advocate of women's liberation, the very nature of her profession and the circumstances surrounding it combine to make her a forceful example for all women.

She says, in her own case, she is probably starting her career about 15 years late. However, though it has been slow in coming, the fact that

Steve Shirley

Steve Shirley's great, great grandma would have been proud of him last week. The Terra Nova High southpaw hurler pointed his left hand at Walter O'Malley and extracted a reported $46,000 from him, a figure which would undoubtedly have drawn plaudits from Belle Shirley Starr, the notorious wild west lady out - relative, who may also have been the wild west's only Italian outlaw. Only there was no gun in Steve's left hand. Just a helluva fast ball and curve. And now Steve, toiling for Bellingham in the Northwest League, is also destined to be a "star."

We predicted the week before Shirley, Player of the Year in San Mateo County, signed that he would get $50,000. We weren't clairvoyant, but had simply talked to Dick Murray, the scout who had been instrumental in getting Steve's father, Ron, signed to a Dodger contract in 1953 (Ron played three years of class A ball in the Dodger chain), and who had been following Steve around for several years, through his 25-6, 1.75 ERA three year varsity record, through his two no-hitters and numerous one hitters, and 13.5 strikeouts per game.

Murray was obviously high on Steve, and let a hint drop as to Dodger intentions when, in answering our inquiry about reports that Shirley had a reputation of being somewhat of a flake, he said, "Look, if you were young and talented and had the world in front of you and the bucks Steve is going to get, you could afford to be a little screwy, too."

Murray elucidated, "In fact, it helps to be a little screwy in this business. You have to have a special personality. I don't think you can go out there and get tattooed and booted one night, and cheered the next night, and then abused again the next night, without having a little something extra. Some of baseball's greats were ding-a-lings, but that ding-ling personality got them through, and they matured, and then some of them became Hall of Famers."

"STEVE IS LOOSE, he has a good sense of humor, and he doesn't let adversity bother him. But that doesn't mean he isn't trying. In all the games I've seen this kid, he never once quit hustling, even when he was going bad, or getting poor support. He never gives up. He's mentally tough."

And then Murray went into a dissertation on Shirley's fast ball and curve and his hitting ability, and we knew there was no way the Dodgers were going to lose Shirley to the full-ride scholarship USC had offered him.

But the scholarship offer wasn't worthless to Shirley, because it proffered him a good bargaining point. Murray and his boss, Bill Brenzel, were counting on the fact that Steve, while a smart lad with good grades, isn't academically inclined, i.e., doesn't like school.

"A lot of kids," confessed Murray, "will tell you straight out not to draft them, because they're either not interested in playing professional ball, or aren't interested until they complete at least two or three years of college. When we asked Steve if he would be interested in signing if we drafted him, he immediately said yes, he would."

There was still, though, that scholarship offer hanging over the Dodgers' head when they started their low bid at about $2,000, but went up quickly to the $45-50,000 range when father Ron reminded them of the full ride and perhaps hinted that Steve might command even more money with a few years of USC national championships behind him.

No doubt, baseball schools like USC and Arizona State make pro baseball scouts nervous.

"Many colleges," said Murray, "wait until after we draft kids and THEN offer them scholarships. The colleges actually use us as scouts. Then they'll phone a kid who had had no thoughts of going to college — maybe just a year or so at a JC — and the first thing you know, he's holding an Arizona State full ride over your head."

"ANOTHER REAL strong bargaining point we lose in that situation is that we often include in our deals a free college education, which our players can get in the off-season."

"The problem is, if a kid is really serious about a pro career, he isn't going to learn as much playing college ball as he can in the minors, no matter how good a baseball school he attends. They don't play as many games, they are often coached improperly, which means we have to 'de-coach' them when we get them, which wastes a lot of time, and they don't play under the system of the club which eventually signs them, which is also very important."

There are two questions concerning the Dodgers' signing of Shirley which begged to be asked. One was why the pitcher-rich Dodgers would draft a pitcher so high, and the other was why Shirley — one of the most scouted players in the country — would go "only" on the second round, 43rd of 726 picks.

"We picked Shirley," said Murray with a straight face, "because, frankly, we need pitching. We're well stocked with youngsters at the other positions, but we feel that in four or five years we'll need a new crop of pitchers. Guys like Sutton and John and Downing will be 'old men' then, by baseball standards."

"As to why Shirley went so relatively late, that's a mystery to us. We had a hunch the Giants would grab him, for example. But I do know that a lot of clubs were looking for what you call 'regulars' this year. That is, everyday players."

"But possibly the biggest factor was that Steve at this point in his development is often erratic because of school-boy mistakes. He opens his body too soon, he gets too eager and tries to over-pitch. Sometimes his arm is late and his body is fast. As a consequence, he's inconsistent."

SOME DAYS he has major league stuff, other days, though they were rare, he couldn't get the side out. At other times he really didn't have good stuff but got by simply because he's so much more advanced than the average high school player.

"Some kids were more consistent than Steve, but don't have nearly his potential. We don't scout strictly for 'now' performance, but for potential. That's why, perhaps, the Dodgers had an edge, because we saw Steve more than any other club, on mediocre days and on outstanding days. Some scouts would see him on good days, make a glowing report, and then double-checkers would come around on days when he had below average stuff or was wild."

"The thing is, you can't make long-range assumptions on one or two observations. When a kid is 17 and left-handed, it almost isn't normal for him to be consistent. Some scouts are very critical, and it's easier for them to tear down. Some said, well, Shirley's not fast enough. But we don't believe in tearing down. Right now Shirley's faster than most kids his age. So we try to project. This kid is 17. If he doesn't get any faster, he's not going to be a big league pitcher. At least not an outstanding one. But most kids do get faster, and there's no reason in the world, with his loosey-goosey, athletic body, why Steve won't get faster. Seaver got faster. Sutton got faster. Drysdale got faster. So why shouldn't Steve Shirley get faster?"

"We feel that in three or four years, with the coaching we have, that Steve could really be something. Look at it this way. Right now Steve's control is spotty. But let's

US-USSR Track Meet Lions Disappointed

By FRED BAER
Post Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex. — At least one girl didn't succumb to the Olympic fever prevailing on the U.S. junior team Saturday after it had beaten the Russians 197-181.

Karen Elmore, a San Francisco girl who competes for the Millbrae Lions, went into the long jump with high hopes, but could only finish fourth.

She fouled her first two times, then finally got off a leap of 18-4 1/4, more than a foot short of the previous best she's recorded two weeks before in qualifying for this meet. She'd had trouble getting her steps right in the unpredictable wind.

In the qualifying meet, she lost the national championship by a quarter inch to Cheryl Butler of Washington, D.C., who soared 20-8 1/4 to win Saturday.

But Karen has a lot of competition ahead of her — the 15-year-old just graduated from junior high school.

Another Millbrae Lions girl, 16-year-old Cathy Sulinski of South San Francisco, had finished a close third in the javelin Friday.

Miss Elmore had been spotted in a San Francisco PAL meet by Lion member Irene Vidal, who took an immediate interest (Karen is also a strong sprinter).

"She talked me into coming down to the Lions," Karen said. "I got 'discovered.' They were the only ones who really showed an interest."

The Russian women won 82-64, but the American men triumphed 133-99 for the over-all win. "The American team, I believe, could have won even against an all-European team," said Asari Gerchikov, Soviet delegation chief.

The U.S. teens scored more points than expected even though their opponents were setting 10 Soviet junior records.

Said USSR coach Oleg Konstantinov, "I thought the meet would be decided by about a five-point margin. I did not think the U.S. squad would be nearly as strong as they were. They were very organized."

Locals Survive in Cal Amateur Golf

Sixteen survivors of three round of medal play clashed Thursday in the California State Amateur Golf Championship.

Shall Gleason of Foster City, Mike Wiechers of Atherton and Ray Pellegrini of Daly City.

In top matches Thursday morning U.S. Amateur champion Craig Stadler of USC met Mark Lye of San Jose State and tourney defending champion Mike Brannan, a Salinas teenager, faced Conrad Nilmeier of Stanford.

Stadler, bidding to become only the second player in 63 years to simultaneously hold the national and state titles, won medal honors with an eight-over-par 225, including a 78 Wednesday.

"Winning medal honors doesn't mean all that much," Stadler said. "Now the tournament begins."

imagine that in a few years he gets it at least to respectability. Right now he throws only one good curve in five tries, but when you see that good one, you know it's a major league curve. He'll throw four below average fast-balls, and then he'll throw one that explodes.

"WELL, IF HE throws major league curves 20 per cent of the time, and major league fast balls 20 per cent of the time, there's no reason to doubt he has the potential, with the proper training and attitude, to throw them virtually 100 per cent of the time."

"So when we look at Steve Shirley, we imagine him four or five years from now throwing those major league curves and exploding fast balls over the plate. You can get excited about that."

"And the best thing about Steve is that he's what we call a double-shot. If he has trouble pitching or hurts his arm, you can stick a bat in his hands, shove him into the outfield, and you have another helluva prospect, because he swings the bat well, can run like heck, has a great arm and good instincts. Actually, some clubs were very high on him as an outfielder."

"I'll tell you," continued Murray. "If I had a son with Steve's potential, and a club wanted to sign him that had a pitcher's park like the Dodgers do, and the crowds and the team and the organization behind it that the Dodgers do, with all the money available to pay its top players, I don't think I could ask my son to sign for a better organization."

Evidently, Ron Shirley agreed with Murray.

CSM to Host Youth Camp

The College of San Mateo annual summer football camp will hold three week-long, pre-season drills, with the first session for 9 to 13-year olds scheduled to open July 8.

Steve Shafer, Bulldog football coach and CSM physical education instructor, is camp director.

The program, which is non-contact and conforms with all school regulations, features pre-season conditioning, offensive and defensive drills, the kicking game, strength development, video tape replays to evaluate progress and the showing of NFL games and instructional films.

Enrollment is still open in the program which is sponsored by the CSM Community Services office. For enrollment or additional information, contact CSM Community Services, 1700 West Hillsdale Blvd.

POST NET CLINIC The Backhand Myth

(This is the fourth article in a series on beginning tennis as taught by San Mateo pro John Reed.)

By GARRY NIVER & JOHN REED
One thing is certain about John Reed: He wants to make sure that you do it right. Therefore, if your swing shows any little flaw, he'll make you keep practicing it until it comes out just right. "No bad habits taught in this camp," snaps the local pro.

This week Reed explains the very perplexing backhand and how it isn't such a complicated shot as most beginners think.

"Some days your backhand will be working better than your forehand and you'll have to rely on it more than usual. And some people have an easier time hitting a backhand than they do a forehand," he adds.

Apparently he wasn't including clumsy journalists in the above statement.

In the backhand, you take the same ready stance as you do with the forehand. Only you pivot to the opposite side of the forehand.

"As you pivot, take the racquet back and rotate slightly around the hip," explains Reed. "As you are doing so, you slide the top of your hand to the top of the racquet, changing from the Australian grip to the Continental grip."

"Take your left (right) hand and lightly grasp the racquet by the throat, drawing it back to the hip." A note of caution: don't take your racquet back any further than your back foot.

"Now," continues Reed, "the rest is much like the forehand. There is 'bounce, step' (into the ball) and hit. And there is no need to try and overpower the ball. The weight shift (from your back foot to your front foot) when you step into the ball will provide you with all of the power you need."

"The Continental Backhand"

And just like the forehand, Reed emphasizes that the follow-through is a very important part of the backhand stroke. Also, don't draw your racquet back too high or you will end up hitting grounders. In that case, St. Plus can better utilize your talents in their Little League program.

"Another hint," says Reed, "is don't lead into the backhand with your elbow or you'll end up pushing the ball off to the side."

"And always play back of the ball as you get a better line by stepping into the ball. Don't wait for the ball to get to you before you bring the racquet back. See which side of the court the ball is going to come to and bring the racquet back."

Thus, the mystery of the backhand is laid to rest.

Changes Sought In County Rules

Members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors should be restricted to three consecutive terms, and the county should finance printing and mailing of candidate qualifications as a means of cutting down on campaign expenses.

These are among the 1974-75 "county positions" of the County Council of the Leagues of Women Voters of San Mateo County submitted June 25 to the Board of Supervisors at a luncheon meeting in Redwood City.

Mrs. Linda Craig, chairwoman of the council, informed the board that the members participating in the studies leading to the county positions could not agree on whether to recommend a change to election of board members by district or to increase the number of board members from five to seven.

There was "strong agreement," however, that limitation of terms of board members would provide a turnover on the board and therefore achieve greater representation of interests over a period of time, Mrs. Craig stated.

Members also agreed, the chairwoman said, that campaign expenditures should be limited, consistent with adequate voter information, and that the county should provide one free mailing with the ballot booklet, consisting of candidate qualifications and a platform statement.

On the ballot itself, members felt that the term "incumbent" should not be used and that names of candidates should be placed in a random order.

As to county boards and commissions, the Leagues of Women Voters overwhelmingly agreed that the procedures for appointment should be changed.

The committee which made the study was "amazed" to find the administrative and legal errors in making appointments during the past year, Mrs. Craig said.

"It seems to League members that the process could be improved by standardizing the process," she added.

Suggested by the League is a process of public announcement of vacancies, well in advance of the appointment date, asking interested persons to apply. A standardized application form containing certain legally required eligibility information and space for an applicant to state qualifications and past community service should be used, the chairwoman said.

The present county policy to limit county board and commission appointments to three consecutive terms should be incorporated into an ordinance, she stated.

The League is "delighted" that the Board of Supervisors has decided to print agendas in the newspapers, Mrs. Craig said, because of "difficulty in finding out about county governmental proceedings."

However, she added, "We remain concerned by the

SSF District Administrator To New Post

Dr. Jack W. McLaughlin, Jr. of South San Francisco has been named superintendent of the Sunnyvale School District. It was announced by P. David Morin, president of the board of trustees.

Dr. McLaughlin is 32 years old.

He is presently the assistant superintendent for instruction for the South San Francisco Unified School District. He has held that position since September 1972.

"The board is looking forward to working with Dr. McLaughlin. We are fortunate indeed to have found such an outstanding young educator to head our school district," Morin said.

He will assume his duties Aug. 1 and will receive an annual salary of $32,500. He replaces Dr. Ed Greenblatt, who is leaving to head the Culver City Unified School District.

A preliminary 1974-75 fiscal budget was approved by the Cabrillo Unified School District board of trustees Tuesday night, calling for a potential 10-cent increase in an override tax.

lack of summary minutes, and feel that the annotated staff reports and meeting tape do not provide an adequate substitute."

The League, Mrs. Craig stated, hopes the board will "place a high priority on the ability of the public to participate in the governmental process."

During the next year, she said, the League will continue its study of county government by an evaluation of the decision-making process through a full review of the County Charter with respect to the role of the county manager, the number of elected department heads, the relationships between boards and commissions and department heads, and a review of the budget-making process.

Appeals for help were sent out Monday from the Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center.

Senior Therapist Patricia Fischetti has asked for public assistance in meeting a $225 bill for materials used in the construction of a wheel chair lift for Mrs. Charlotte Jackson of Colma. The lift was designed and constructed by a group of Stanford University students as a volunteer project.

The sum needed represents cost of materials. The therapist at Crystal Springs Center, located at 35 Tower center, said that neither the student, nor the center have the necessary funds to meet the bill.

A plea for help also came Monday from aspiring author David Luchini, a quadriplegic young patient at the center.

"I need helpers," he picked out on his electric typewriter. "I need helpers to help me type, to feed back to me what I write, one word at a time."

"I want to write this story very much, but I need help very much."

Luchini, aged 30, is confined to a wheelchair and types with a pointer attached to his head. He can see well enough to pick out the typewriter keys but not well enough to read the words he has written.

DC Letter Carrier Is Honored

S. D. "Sut" Chalos, Daly City letter carrier, was elected to the 18-member Executive Board of the California State Association of Letter Carriers at its recent convention in Oakland.

The California State Association is a 25,000 member subsidiary division of the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO.

Chalos' district includes Northern San Mateo, San Francisco and Southern Marin Counties.

"This marks the first time in 20 years that a Daly City member has been elected to a State office, and we are very proud of him," said John Kapaghian, President of the Daly City Branch.

Purpose of the State Association is to promote the welfare of Letter Carriers and to improve Postal service. To this end, Chalos is scheduling a series of training seminars for the Letter Carriers in his District.

The 49th Biennial Convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers will be held in Seattle, Washington, August 11-17, and Chalos will head the delegation from Northern San Mateo, San Francisco and Southern Marin Counties.

Advance registration indicates that the Seattle convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers will be the largest labor convention ever held in the United States.

Chalos will serve a two-year term on the State Executive Board, governing body of the State Association between conventions.

Annette Steeg, Kim Batsoni, Doreen Fr. to, Kathy White, Debbie Bu. den, Annamie Gonzales and Lynette Nielson recently were bridged to Cadette Scouting.

Big Increase in County Assessments

San Mateo County should "at least" be able to hold its present tax rate of $1.97 per $100 assessed valuation this year in view of a 8.99 per cent increase in assessed valuation announced Monday by County Assessor Jack Estes.

The percentage increase in 1974-75 assessed valuation, up $205,292,862 to a total of $2,486,688,214, is second only to last year's record increase of 10.17 per cent.

County Manager M. D. Tarshes said that the new assessed valuation should "at least" take care of the $2.5 million net county cost increase in the proposed 1974-75 county budget, although the "crucial" year-ending general fund balance won't be known until near the end of this month.

"We should be able to hold the tax rate," Tarshes stated.

Following last year's increase in assessed valuation, the Board of Supervisors lowered the tax rate by 32 cents.

Although the county legally does not have to set the tax rate until Sept. 1, the figure is usually known as soon as the county budget is adopted and the assessed valuation of utility properties made by the State Board of Equalization, probably late this month or early August.

Hit hardest in the new assessment roll is the town of Hillsborough, where the assessed valuation increased by 35.23 per cent, up $23,271,135. Residents there already are up in arms over the assessment increases meted out this year.

Other big increases are recorded in Foster City, up 21.27 per cent; Pacifica, up 20.60 per cent; Woodside, up 17.67 per cent; Portola Valley, up 16.50 per cent, and San Mateo, up 15.70 per cent. Estes reported that reassessments were made this year in all of those communities, with the exception of Foster City.

In Foster City, he said, there has been considerable new construction, especially of condominiums and townhouses, accounting for the increase there.

Overall, Estes stated, the assessed valuation increase reflects ever increasing market price of real property. The county, by law, must assess property at 25 per cent of the market value.

The assessor cited specifically the situation in Hillsborough, where the San Mateo-Burlingame Board of Realtors multiple listing service quotes 36 sales of homes there during the first quarter of 1974 at an average price of $141,397, as compared to 122 sales for all of 1973 at an average price of $133,210.

Estes reported that 56,500 notices of assessment increases were sent out this year, as compared to 83,000 last year.

There are a total of 2,056 new parcels on the 1974-75 assessment roll, he said, 73 per cent of them condominiums and townhouses and the balance single-family homes and other development.

New Head Of Pacifica Recreation

Virginia "Ginny" Silva will take over as new director of the Pacifica Department of Parks, Beaches and Recreation July 15.

She was appointed by City Manager Dave Thompson last week to succeed Dick Burton, whose resignation will become effective July 15.

"I appointed her," Thompson explained, "because I felt that she was the outstanding candidate for the position, and is extremely capable."

Silva has been recreation superintendent since 1970. Thompson said that he will consult with her over a successor to her old post, and on whether she would want any reorganization of the office.

Silva, 31, came to Pacifica from San Jose, where she attended college and served with the Sunnyvale Recreation Dept. She came to Pacifica in 1965, and was appointed recreation superintendent in 1970, heading the recreation division.

While in Pacifica, she obtained her master's degree in recreation from San Francisco State University.

She was charter president of the Portola branch of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and serves as a director of the San Mateo County Board of the Family Service Agency.

Burton will remain at the helm long enough to preside over dedication of Pacifica's first city park, Frontierland, on July 4 — one of the principal objectives of his administration.

Burton said that he is leaving for Sacramento as a partner in the new Fitzgerald's Restaurant, opening in conjunction with the new Sandman Hotel, on Highway 5, just north of the Capitol.

Burton came to Pacifica in 1964, where he served as recreation superintendent for three years. He then left for Sierra Madre, serving as recreation director for two years. He returned to Pacifica in 1970 as recreation superintendent.

3 Killed in Coastside Accidents

Three persons, two Half Moon Bay residents and a South San Francisco man, are dead as the result of two traffic accidents on Cabrillo Highway within a period of two hours Saturday afternoon.

Two of the fatalities occurred after cars driven by Lonice Earl Coburn, 63, a crossing guard, of Verdi Road, Half Moon Bay, and by Susan Mari Santini, 18, of 1812 N. Cabrillo Highway, Half Moon Bay, collided head-on two miles south of the Half Moon Bay city limits at 3 p.m.

Highway Patrolman M. L. Sody reported that Coburn's southbound car crossed over the center line and crashed into the northbound Santini vehicle.

Witnesses told him, the officer said, that the Coburn vehicle had been traveling about 50 miles an hour and weaving, almost striking three other cars, whose drivers had to take evasive action to avoid a collision.

A nearly empty pint whiskey bottle was found in Coburn's car, the patrolman reported. Coburn was pronounced dead on arrival at Chope Community Hospital.

Miss Santini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guido Santini, died of massive injuries at Chope Hospital at 6:25 a.m. Sunday.

Vance Leroy Gible, 48, a truck driver, of 309 Airport Blvd., South San Francisco, was pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital after his truck struck an embankment and overturned one mile south of Linda Mar Boulevard near the north edge of Devil's Slide at 1 p.m.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Finocchio's Lead Dancer Ballet Star

Drawing big applause from audiences at Finocchio's these nights is Estuardo Mora, lead dancer in the colorful Eve-ettes chorus line. Before joining the world-famous local niter, featuring the best in female impersonators, Estuardo performed in the Folklorico Mexico Ballet. Illuminated outside dining is a crowd attraction at all three of Nick Gust's Pacific restaurants — The Moonraker, featuring continental cuisine; Nick's, serving breakfast, luncheon and dinner, and Captain Charles, a seafood specialty house. Take a day off from daily routines and head for this seaside restaurant site in Rockaway Beach. "Live, Laugh and Love" is the exceptional show currently bringing in crowds at the Rodeway Inn, South San Francisco. Featuring Mike O'Day, the show is only one of several entertainment bonanzas booked in the plush Golden Rooster Lounge for the coming months. Shakey's is a nation-wide chain of restaurants geared to the family trade, and this was never more obvious than at Shakey's Pizza Parlor in downtown Burlingame. The new owners here have made some dramatic changes. Judge for yourself by stopping in to enjoy their special brand of hospitality.

New Racquet Club For Members Only

Jerry Greenbach, known on the Peninsula for his new concepts in the hotel business, is now in the process of debuting a new Racquet Club at his Royal Inn, South San Francisco. Membership to the club, which is scheduled to open July 1, includes reserved court time on the four wind-protected USLTA approved courts, as well as pool privileges, saunas, therapy baths and a 50 per cent reduction in hourly rates. Charter memberships are now available for $100 for a limited time only. The number to call for further information is 873-3550. Dave Rasmussen is an amusing fellow! The Shadows owner was among the many notables of the local restaurant set who attended the Hotel and Restaurant Association banquet held at the Airport Marina Hotel, in Burlingame. Rasmussen kept his table regaled with funny stories all during dinner. Vladimir Tupy of Roos-Atkins World Travel Bureau recently entertained visiting executives from Pan American Airways at lunch at the Shadows of San Mateo. The San Mateo-Burlingame Auxiliary to Children's Hospital at Stanford, who operate the Garden Cafe in Burlingame, have initiated a new coffee and Danish hour for local shoppers and business people from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m., Mondays through Fridays. Coffee and sweet rolls are also served in the private upstairs area for reserved groups holding meetings during these hours.

POLISHED PROS — Delivery, a six-piece group that recently returned from a smash three-month tour of Canada, opened Tuesday night at Frand Martinelli's Beach House in San Mateo. For some pleasant listening combining a wide range of sounds the answer is pure Delivery. And don't forget the every-Tuesday-night $100 Dance Contest.

Jack Elsdon Now at Holiday Inn, So. S.F.

Jack Elsdon, a veteran restaurant figure who needs no introduction to those familiar with the Peninsula restaurant circuit, is the new night manager at the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. Food and Beverage Director Mike Quivey reports that the Sunday morning Buffet Brunch is doing a land-office business. Use the Airport Blvd. Exit from Bayshore and enjoy an early-day (9 a.m. till 2 p.m.) repast that you won't soon forget. Happy Orange is the newest spot to join the roster of food establishments located within the Garden Restaurant complex on the lower level of San Bruno's Tanforan Park Shopping Center. Owned by Ruth Wootton, Happy Orange is a haven for a variety of beverages. Besides numerous whipped drinks, you will find slushes, cones, floats, shakes and sundaes. Moderately-priced sandwiches are also on the menu. It's a perfect spot for a quick snack or a refreshing drink the next time you're shopping at Tanforan Park.

Action Galore At The Bit of England

Monday, July 15, will be an eventful day for Lucky Oliver, Charlie McFadden and the gang at the Bit of England. That's the day the Delta Airlines Gold Tournament is slated for Crystal Springs, with participants and followers heading back to the Burlingame restaurant for dinner and cocktails. Golfers from all over the country are expected to participate. The latest word from John Hutchinson, manager of the bustling Fork 'n' Cork restaurant: The half-price dinner offer will definitely end July 18. Clip the coupon found in today's Bright Lights and take advantage of this money-saving offer before it expires. Note the valid days. Among the nattily attired guests at the recent Hotel and Restaurant Association banquet was the Leaning Tower's Lou Ercoli and his lovely wife, Lou, always one of the Peninsula's more fashionable restaurant owners, even wore a tuxedo for the special occasion. Can you imagine: $1.95 will buy a choice of eight different dinners featured every Sunday at the Farmers Market restaurant complex in Hillsdale. Yep; that's exactly the price. The special dinners are offered until the normal Sunday evening closing time.

Hawaiian Produce Flown Twice Weekly

Lehr's Greenhouse is the only San Francisco restaurant with a fresh Hawaiian Produce Market right on the premises. Luncheon and dinner guests pick up huge (five pound) avocados, papayas and bananas on the stalk — flown in twice-weekly from Hawaii — to enjoy at home. Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant is now on a short vacation, with July 8 being the reopening date. What and where Vince Licata and his crew experience on their "days off" should be interesting reading. Luncheon Specials are served here Mondays through Fridays, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., plus many seafood and Italian selections, eggs, omelettes, sandwiches, desserts and beverages. For fresh seafood to prepare at home, visit Vince's Fish Depot next door. The new $7 Bonus Value offered by California Nevada Golden Tours to John Ascuaga's Nugget consists of $5 cash and $2 food and beverage. It's nine hours of fun and excitement for only $15.30 per person. For information and reservations, call Ed's Smoke Shop in San Carlos (591-6266). Adults only.

Social Functions Black Angus Special

Stuart Anderson's Black Angus restaurant in San Mateo boasts one of the Peninsula's best private dining rooms. Up to 200 persons can be accommodated for business and social functions. It has a private bar, air-conditioning and excellent sound system. Call Manager John Slack to assist your group in planning an activity. Incidentally, have you danced on the Stainless Steel dancefloor in the lounge? It's really something! Playing the dance sounds Tuesdays through Saturdays is the American Company, three versatile entertainers who blend the "now" sounds with yesterday's favorites. "Come early and stay late" is the invitation of this one-price steak house. California Nevada Golden Tours invites you to join the crowds who are taking advantage of their eight-hour bonus offer, with buses leaving daily to Sahara Tahoe. Besides being relaxed and taking in the scenic beauty, you receive $3 cash plus two cocktails (per person). The fare is $14.55. There are three locations to serve you: Ed's Smoke Shop in San Carlos, Sears Southland in Hayward, and the Cock 'n Bull restaurant in Concord. Yes, Perry Boy's Smorgy in San Mateo will be open July 4. It will be the same policy of "help yourself to all you want" — and the hours will be 11:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The Freedom Train Held Over Again

Pete Brallier, owner of Sneaky Pete's in downtown Burlingame, is holding over Steve Long and The Freedom Train. Originally inked for two weeks, the group has proved to be such a big draw that an extended engagement was inevitable. Appearing in concert Sunday night will be Sahara. A perfect spot for early evening romancing is Vince Russo's new Eggplant, in Burlingame. From 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, "Tea Time" is featured, and the dance sounds are provided by Tshombe. Grand Slam, a versatile group that has played several of the Bay Area's major niteries in months past opened Tuesday night at Abbey Road for an indefinite gig. Dinner tip: The Steak and Lobster Combination served at Reuben's "up on the hill" in San Mateo. Or if your taste runs toward seafood, try their exceptional Mahi-Mahi.

Henri J. Lewin Is Hilton Executive

Charlie Rich, who was named country music's "Top Male Vocalist" in 1973, made his Las Vegas debut at the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel. Also appearing in the Hilton's main showroom for a limited two weeks will be Olivia Newton-John, another fast rising country song artist. Popular Henri J. Lewin, who heads the San Francisco Hilton, is also executive vice president of the Las Vegas Hilton and is responsible for the hotel's outstanding success. Leslie Uggams, the pixieish singer with the warm, lusty voice, and her dynamic Cotton Club Revue, co-stars with Myron Cohen, the witty storyteller, in the main showroom of the Flamingo Hilton in Las Vegas, through July 17. Sizzler Family Steak House (San Bruno, Palo Alto, San Leandro, Hayward, Alameda, Albany, Castro Valley, Corte Madera, Fremont, Walnut Creek) is offering a bargain special that you don't want to miss. For only $3.79 you can purchase two complete Steak-a-bob platters (regular $4.20 value) at any one of the above mentioned locations. Now you can treat someone to a Steak-a-bob and save big in the bargain! It's a meal-on-a-skewer. Tender chunks of juicy steak, with pineapple, onion, pepper and mushroom — all broiled to order. And served with your choice of baked potato or French fries, plus hot Sizzler toast.

YOU MAY BE A WINNER!

The Times DAILY JACK POT

A new, fun-to-play game with over $4,000.00 in Daily Prizes plus 3 Grand Prize Trips! Now through August 15.

RULES FOR PLAYING "DAILY JACKPOT":

1. Display a "Daily Jackpot" decal either on or near the rear bumper of your car or at your home so that it is visible from the street. For best results, affix decal to a clean, dry surface and press on firmly.
2. Winning license numbers and/or winning addresses will be published daily in The Times and will be posted at The Times three offices: 1080 South Amphlett Blvd., San Mateo, 205 W. Angus Ave., San Bruno, 723 Middlefield Road, Redwood City.
3. If you spot your license number or your address as a winning number, come into The Times main office, 1080 South Amphlett Boulevard, San Mateo, the following day between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and draw your prize from the "Daily Jackpot." (Friday and Saturday winners must claim their prizes the following Monday between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.)
4. Each winner must bring state automobile registration card showing winning license number, or your driver's license or other verification of address showing winning address in order to draw prize.
5. Gift Certificates from participating retailers, Family Passes for Marine World-Africa U.S.A. and Grand Prize trips are not redeemable for cash.
6. All "Daily Jackpot" winners are eligible for one of three Grand Prize trips to be awarded by a drawing at the conclusion of the contest. Winners of the Grand Prize trips need not be present at the drawing to win; they will be notified by The Times.
7. Employees of Amphlett Printing Company, their families and participating retailers are not eligible.

United Airlines Changes Its Name and Colors

United Airlines is no longer United Air Lines.

That's not the only change; the two-word name is accompanied by a new paint scheme red, orange and blue on white instead of the familiar red, white and blue.

There's a new United symbol, or "logo," a stylized "U" instead of the familiar shield used by United Air Lines for 38 years.

John Blackman, new regional vice president for United and a resident of Belmont, admits that the idea of red-orange-blue stripes on the company's 867 jets struck him wrong at first.

"Once you see it, though, it's all right," he said.

The bold new paint jobs will be coming out of United's San Francisco International Airport Service Center as part of the normal "cycle" of repainting, which is expected to take 33 months.

Blackman said the total cost of the project is negligible because the work is only being done as equipment normally needs re-painting.

Traditionally, changes in "corporate images" are only done when the charts are pointed down and the ink is running red, but Blackman said United is doing it for a different reason.

"This represents what we have come to recognize as a new spirit among United employees," he said.

"During the 60s, when we had some hard times, and all the airlines were having hard times, we learned more than ever that we could rely on our employees, that they are part of the company and an important part of the company."

He noted that many United employ groups sold tickets and promoted charter trips on their own, and worked in other ways to improve company acceptance in the communities in which they live.

The new color scheme, and the uniforms that will follow, is designed to recognize that new United spirit, he said.

Officially, the changeover will begin in September when advertising and promotion programs hit the newspapers, magazines, and television and radio waves.

Here at United's Service Center, however, there is no make-believe about September. Already two planes have rolled out of the paint shop with the new striping, a DC-8 and a DC-10, and one "tug" to move them around on the ground has been re-done in style with the planes.

The big planes are already in service, and there'll be more and more during the months before the fall advertising schedules.

"The new identification is calculated to express the innovative, forward-looking approaches and attitudes United is presenting in the market place," Blackman said.

Just because United is "Number One," Blackman suggested, does not mean the company is not going to try harder.

As for details, the new coloring jobs require 129 gallons of paint per DC-10, much of which is being bought from San Mateo County suppliers, and the average painting requires 750 man-hours of skilled labor by local people.

Some of the changes are subtle, such as the shift from the older-fashioned letters with serifs and curlicues to a type that is bold and modern.

Along with the new paint, the new "U" symbol, and other changes that will come, the scheme is designed to keep the company a leader in the competitive air transport business.

Community Group to Study School Financing Problems

The South San Francisco School Board, facing "monumentous" funding problems, voted June 24 to establish a community committee to study and analyze the school district's financial status.

The work of the committee would relate to whether or not the school district's resources are adequate to maintain the present level of programs and personnel required to maintain such programs, according to the school administration's proposal.

The committee was to be formed by July 1, and after a month of study, report its findings to the board.

In other action the board: • Extended the contracts of Superintendent Paul Nielsen, Associate Superintendent Joseph Smith, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction Jack McLaughlin Jr., and Assistant Superintendent for Personnel David Cricks for four years, expiring June 30, 1978.

The vote was 3-0, with Kenneth Austin abstaining. Austin said his abstention should not be construed as a positive or negative reaction to any of the administrators, but that he preferred a shorter contract period.

• Postponed until Thursday's meeting action on purchase of an estimated $20,000.

emergency communication system.

The administration said the school now has no method of communicating with the South San Francisco emergency operating center or the school district's office in an emergency. Thus, there is a need for such a system between the schools, buses, and the district office.

Sheldon Winston, president of the Association of Administrative Personnel, said the communications system would serve the district and community on an everyday basis as a minimum communication structure.

• Approved $6,715 to the original contract of $41,256 to cover costs of restructuring bleachers at Clifford Field at South San Francisco High School.

The cost of the project was increased due to structural and safety changes made by the Office of Architect and Construction. One of these changes was to put up a stronger front railing that would meet the standards.

• Recommended the Board of Trustees support the creation of a program called "Volunteer Friends to Teenage Parents" that would provide informed adult assistance for teenagers who are parents and are generally isolated from regular contact with other experienced parents. The program would be funded from general revenue sharing funds through the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

The desire for more input into the district's financial situation by the forming of the community committee was applauded by the school board.

John Dillon, board vice president, said the district is heading toward dire financial straits and that "monumental problems are facing us." Dillon said the community input into such a study would be helpful.

Austin, explaining that every school district in California is faced with financial problems, and we are no exception, agreed community involvement is beneficial.

The committee will be selected from nominees from a long list of community organizations. They include the presidents of Parent-Teacher Association units, the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the California Teachers Association, the

DC Scouts Hold Father, Son Campout

Scouts and fathers of Daly City Troop 369 spent the weekend at Marin County Camp Tamarancho swimming, boating, fishing and testing the ability of the scouts and their fathers in reading a compass.

Attending the campout was Flying Eagle Patrol members Bill Guzman, Mike Boasso, Brian Watson and Dave Bevilacqua; Apache Patrol members Tony Fretty, Mike Franzoia, Maxie Santiago and Jim Schumacher; Viking Patrol members Trippy Sliter, Steve Hauschildt, Mark Orloff; Troop Headquarters member Asst. Senior Patrol Leader Mike Burns, Asst. Scoutmasters Ray Boasso and Craig Markinson and Scoutmaster Fred Pratt.

Stroke Club Sets Meeting

The Mary's Help Hospital Stroke Club will meet Tuesday, July 9 at 7 p.m. in the St. Francis Pavilion, 99 Escuelita St., Daly City.

Robert B. Telfer, M.D., a Daly City neurologist and member of the Mary's Help Medical-Dental Staff will be the featured speaker at the July meeting. His topic is "How a Neurologist Looks at a Stroke Patient."

The meeting is open to all stroke victims, their families and friends. The purpose of the club is to help stroke victims adjust to new life styles made necessary by a stroke.

For more information on the Stroke Club, contact Eugene Smith, director of Social Services or Karen van Swearingen, R.N., at 992-4000.

American Federation of Teachers local, and other groups.

The board appointed Valerie Lambertson, last year's president of the Northern Peninsula chapter of the Parent-Teachers Association, as committee chairwoman. Mrs. Lambertson, although realizing the formidable task before her, said she liked the idea of community input.

Mrs. Lambertson said she plans to see exactly what the financial system is now, and then find out where the district could get more money. But before that, she will have to perform another feat — that of meeting the deadline of the board of notifying and getting together the representatives of the 20 or more organizations in just one week.

Three SSF Policemen Are Promoted

Promotions for three South San Francisco police officers were announced last week.

Anthony Smith was appointed sergeant after three years in the investigation division. Detective Smith has been with the Department eight years. He will be assigned to the patrol division in charge of the night watch.

Michael Morello has been appointed to the Criminal Investigation Division. He will be in charge of the burglary detail. Detective Morello has been with the department since 1965. He has served four years as a cadet, five years as a patrolman, one year as community relations officer.

James Cooper replaces Detective William Wright, killed in a helicopter accident. Officer Cooper will be with the North County Burglary Prevention Unit. Officer Cooper has been with the Department five years, including three with the traffic section as a motorcycle officer.

SSF City Planner Appointed

Appointment of David Hale as South San Francisco city planner was revealed by Asst. City Manager Mike Wilson.

Hale will assume office July 15, replacing Neal Martin, who has been serving as a part-time planning consultant.

Hale's appointment will fill the last of the many vacancies which last year had left most of the city's departments headed by acting directors. The planning office has been without a permanent head for nearly a year.

City Manager Ed Alario's reorganization of the city downgraded the post, however, so that now it is a division of the Public Services Department, rather than a department of itself.

Hale will share the former responsibilities of the last planner, Dan Pass, with recently appointed zoning administrator, William Costanzo. Both will work under Frank Addiego, director of public services.

Hale, 35, currently is planning associate for the City of Oakland. He specializes, there, in comprehensive planning and urban renewal planning. He was chosen from over 50 who had applied and nine applicants who were interviewed.

Hale received his bachelor of arts degree in city planning from the University of Virginia in 1962, and his master's degree in regional planning from the University of North Carolina in 1964. He worked on the planning staff of Independence, Mo., from 1964 to 1966, and also worked as planner in Roanoke, Va.

JCPenney Passenger Tire Guarantee:
Road Hazard and Workmanship Guarantee: Our Passenger Tires are guaranteed against failures caused by road hazard and defects in material or workmanship for the life of the original tread until worn to the wear indicators which appear when 2/32" of tread remain. If a tire fails before 10% of the original tread is used, we will replace the tire at no charge. How adjustment is made: In return for the tire, JCPenney will, at our option, repair or replace it charging only for the proportion of the current selling price plus Federal Excise Tax that represents tread used. Wear-Out Guarantee: Our Passenger Tires are guaranteed against wear-out for the number of months specified. If the tires wear down to the wear indicators, which appear when 2/32" of tread remain, we will make an adjustment. Wear-out caused by misalignment is excluded. How Adjustment For Wear-Out is Made: In return for the tire, JCPenney will provide a new one charging Federal Excise Tax plus the then current selling price less the following allowance.

MONTHLY GUARANTEE PERIOD	ALLOWANCE
18	10%
19 to 26	15%
27 to 35	20%
36 to 39	25%
40 and over	30%

This guarantee applies to tires used on private passenger cars and other non-commercial vehicles only.

Exterior Latex

Sale 3⁹⁹
gallon

Save $4 Reg. 7.99. One Coat Exterior Latex paint.
Dries to a beautiful flat finish, resists mildew. Available in white and seven colors, all bright, beautiful, and up to the high Penney standards you expect! Fully guaranteed.

Sale prices effective thru Saturday, July 13th.

In custom paint mixes, because color intensity differs, the volume of paint per can may, in some cases, be slightly less than one gallon.

5 year guarantee. When this Penncraft® paint is applied to a previously painted and properly prepared surface, we guarantee it for 5 years as stated below. One gallon gives one coat coverage for up to 400 sq. ft. on non-porous surfaces, 250 sq. ft. on porous surfaces (not including shakes and shingles).

- stain resistant
- fade resistant
- non-yellowing
- chalk resistant

If the paint fails to perform as guaranteed, let us know about it, we will provide new paint or a full refund.

Sale! One Coat Plus latex.

Save $4

Reg. 9.99. Sale 5.99 gal. One Coat Plus Exterior Latex. Dries to a flat finish, resists stains, fading, and yellowing. Hands and tools clean up in soap and water, just one coat does the job!

Reg. 9.99. Sale 5.99 gal. One Coat Plus Latex Trim Enamel. Put the finishing touches on an exterior paint job, in a wide range of decorator colors!

Sale prices effective thru Saturday, July 13th.

In custom paint mixes, because color intensity differs, the volume of paint per can may, in some cases, be slightly less than one gallon.

To Determine Amount of Paint Needed

1. Measure distance around house.
2. Multiply this figure by average height of house plus 3 feet (to allow for gables, eaves, overhangs).
3. Divide this total surface to be painted by number of square feet a gallon will cover. One gallon covers up to 400 sq. ft. on smooth surfaces, up to 250 sq. ft. on porous surfaces.

When this Penncraft Paint is applied to a previously painted and properly prepared surface, we guarantee it for 8 years as stated above. One gallon gives 1-coat coverage for up to 400 sq. ft. on non-porous surfaces, 250 sq. ft. on porous surfaces (not including shakes and shingles).

- Chalk-Resistant
- Non-Yellowing
- Stain-Resistant
- Fade-Resistant

If the paint fails to perform as guaranteed, let us know about it, we will provide new paint or a full refund.

Wall Paper!

JCPenney

Hang it yourself.

Hanging your own wallpaper is an easy way to beautify your home. JCPenney has everything you'll need to do the job, plus a free booklet filled with paper-hanging tips like these. How to:

- Prepare the wall, whether it is of newly applied plaster or an older, previously covered wall.
- Remove old wall coverings.
- Cut the wall paper to the proper length.
- Paste the paper.
- Get around the sticky problem of wall fixtures.
- Begin the job the right way.
- Line up, trim, and hang succeeding strips.
- Do a great job papering ceilings.
- Roll seams, eliminate excess paste.
- Hang pre-pasted and strippable woven and non-woven fabric backed wall papers.
- Cleaning and care for all wall papers.
- Choose proper tools for completing the job.

Pick up your copy of this colorful booklet for inventive decorating ideas. Handy do-it-yourself advice!
